BIG MAN HUNT IS AT END

STATE LEGISLATURE OPENS SESSION ON TUESDAY

ROGERS INTERVIEWS SOME PESSIMISTIC REVIEWERS OF 1928

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, Dec. 31. — Before our usual list of millionaires issue their yearly optimistic New Year's statements, please publish the following statements by men who are not concerned with Wall Street:

Percival Proud, an actor—"It's absolutely the worst season our profession has ever witnessed and I see no change for the better."

James Swap, second hand car dealer—"You can't sell a second handed car unless you take in a third-handed one. It's a tough year."

Jim Goodview, suburban real estate—"They are building the houses up instead of out, so who wants any more ground?"

Sam Wildoats, farmer—"1929 just brings on 365 more days to pay interest to the people who are prosperous."

Yours,

WILL.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Good-bye old 1828!

Welcome Little 1929!

Judging from a standpoint of weather conditions 1928 is going to pass out quite calmly while 1929 is coming in the same way.

Tonight, as New Year's eve, is the anniversary of the disastrous fire which destroyed the First United Presbyterian church on North Jefferson street although the fire actually occurred on Saturday night. Part of the fire ruins still stand while work is in progress on erection of a new church structure at Clenmore and Albert streets. The congregation has been worshipping in the Young Women's Christian association auditorium during the year.

Christmas holiday season this year has certainly been of the green order. Nary a semblance of snow during the entire holiday season.

Holiday decorations will burn for the last time tonight. Most of them will be taken down with the coming of the New Year. Many of the inside Christmas trees have been removed.

Get your 1929 license on your car, or leave it in the garage until the new plates arrive. The state highway officers are ordered to wage warfare on drivers who atempt to operate cars with old license plates. More than a million licenses have already been issued in Pennsylvania for 1929.

Robert J. Speed of 129 Fairfield avenue will be seven years old tomorrow, New Year's, being another of the list who celebrate a birthday anniversary as the New Year dawns.

Some how you can feel it, you know what I mean, everybody perking up for the New Year. All during Christmas week every one was groggy there was nothing happening and you might as well have spent the time in bed. Not so now. Things seem to have taken on a new light.

New Wilmington will be booming again in a couple of days. In the little college town during a vacation time the residents seem to follow the quiet which the students leave. Apparently the townspeople are always as glad to have the students back as are the students themselves.

Last few hours for resolutions for 1929 are just ahead! Better hurry and make them now.

As in many local organizations, new officers have just been installed into offices in both the Lions' and Kiwanis service clubs. To these, Rotary, and others Pa. Newc extends best wishes for a happy and highly successful New Year in all civic undertakings.

And while speaking of beginning the year resolved to "do" or "don't" we are reminded of the fact that residents of the city should lay down one general resolve for the next 12 months, namely: To endeavor to make the city of New Castle the best of its size throughout the country.

Legislators Are Gathering Today In State Capital

State Political Leaders Gather In Advance To Hold Many Conferences

FIRST SESSION IS CALLED TUESDAY

Indications Point To Harmonious Session As State Solons Reconvene

By C. B. YORKE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Dec. 31.—On the eve of the opening of the legislature state political leaders and leading members of both houses gathered here today for a final series of conferences before the 1929 session gets under way at noon tomorrow.

Among the leaders already in the city are Republican State Chairman Edward Martin; W. L. Mellon, Pittsburgh Republican chief; Joseph R. Grundy, of Philadelphia and Governor John S. Fisher, Secretary of the Commonwealth Charles Johnson, and A. Boyd Hamilton, secretary of the senate. In addition, many of the members of the general assembly have arrived and by tonight a majority of the 268 members is expected to be in the city.

Hold Conferences.

Martin, Mellon, Grundy, and other sectional chiefs have already conferred with the governor regarding a number of legislative matters and today another conference will be held. Tonight the Republicans will caucus to select the next pilots in the senate and house.

Horace W. Schantz, of Allentown, is slated for re-election as president pro-tem in the senate, while Aaron B. Hess, of Lancaster, will probably be selected as the speaker of the house.

Indications are that harmony will

Cannot Use 1928 Plates

New License Plates Must Be On Cars On Tuesday, Says Horner

"No 1928 automobile license plates may be used in this city after midnight tonight" was the warning issued this morning by Chief of Police C. C. Horner.

The city and state authorities have joined hands in the matter and will make a joint drive on all automobile owners, who persist in using their 1928 license plates after that time, the chief announced.

The state authorities have issued a warning that only 1929 automobile license plates may be used after December 31, 1928 and all persons using other than the new license plates after that time, will be arrested.

"Dracula" Is Not To Be Shown Here

Company Apparently Disbands In Youngstown After Showing Saturday

"Dracula," which was to have been presented at the Cathedral auditorium tonight and Tuesday evening, will not come to New Castle, states Herbert Peairs, manager of The Cathedral.

No notice of this sudden change in the plans of the company reached New Castle until 11 o'clock this morning. The show was last presented at Youngstown, and apparently the company has disbanded after the final presentation Saturday evening.

Police And Fire Appointments To Be Made Shortly

Council met today for the last time in 1928, and in order to fill vacancies in the departments of fire and police the civil service board was requested to furnish eligible lists for firemen and police. It is reported that one man will be added to each department.

PHILADELPHIA GANGSTERS OPERATE OVER IN CAMDEN

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 31.—Driven from Philadelphia by the campaign against gangs and racketeering, the bark of gangdom's machine guns, punctuated by the roar of sawed-off shotguns echoed through the outskirts of Camden during the weekend, leaving two dead and five wounded victims in their wake today.

The death-dealing barrage was laid down from a speeding auto, the occupants of which pumped a stream of bullets into two other machines after a seven-mile chase along the Black Horse pike near the century-old Chew's Inn. Seven persons are under arrest and warrants have been sworn out for three others, charging them with murder.

The dead were Nicolas Celebre, 30, proprietor of a poolroom, and Joseph Cusano, 21, who, police say, figured in several shooting cases.

The wounded are Phyllis Pizzola, 20, condition critical; Eleanor McDevitt, Peter Zecco, condition serious; Samuel Orlando and Daniel Del Giorno, alias Danny Daniels. Daniels disappeared after the shooting, but the others are in West Jersey Homeopathic hospital.

NEWS TO PRINT EARLY TUESDAY

In accordance with the annual observance of New Year's day, The News will be issued on Tuesday about 11 o'clock in the morning.

Heldman Faces Hearing Today; Fights Charge

Lorain Furnace Salesman Fights Hard To Escape Clutches Of Law In Wife's Death

HEMORRHAGE WAS CAUSE OF DEATH

Prosecuting Attorney Harter Asks That Heldman Be Brought Into Court For Trial

(International News Service)

CANTON, O., Dec. 31.—Wilbur O. Heldman, 27, the Lorain furnace salesman who is alleged to hove goaded his wife into suicide after she had confessed killing Vernard E. Fearn, today forced the state, which charged him with murder, to show its hand.

At his insistence a preliminary hearing was held by Justice of the Peace Donald M. Smythe. Heldman hopes that the outcome will be that he will be discharged from custody and released from the county jail, where he has been held prisoner for two weeks.

Prosecuting Attorney Henry W. Harter, Jr., will ask the magistrate to hold Heldman for the grand jury.

Heldman was brought to the justice's court room by Deputy Sheriff George Thorne. Harter came in accompanied by three assistant prosecuting attorneys and indicated he would fight to the last ditch to prevent Heldman's being discharged.

Coroner Testifies

Dr. Thomas C. McQuate, Stark county coroner, was the first witness. He told of finding Mrs. Margaret Horner Heldman in a dying condition in the automobile in which her husband drove her from Lorain to deliver her to the sheriff to answer for the Fearn killing. Heldman says she shot

Poisoned Liquor Deaths Decrease

Marked Contrast Shown This Year Attributable To Poisoned Bootleg Liquor

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—In marked contrast to virtually every holiday season since the Volstead act went into effect, there were no deaths this Yuletide attributable to poisoned liquor, according to an official report today by Prohibition Commissioner J. M. Doran.

No report was received by the prohibition bureau of the distribution of wood alcohol or other poisoned beverages by bootleggers. No deaths could be traced to the beverage use of alcohol denatured under the government's formulas.

Dr. Doran informed the treasury there were a number of deaths due to acute alcoholism as a result of the Christmas celebrations.

Cease Drilling In Deepest Test Well Near Kane

Well Is Now Down Nearly Mile And Half; Piece Of Casting Stuck

DRILLING WORK COSTS LARGE SUM

Work On Test Well Was Started Three Years Ago By Gas Company

By GRAYDON F. SMART
International News Service Staff Correspondent

KANE, Pa., Dec. 31.—After drilling nearly a mile and a half into the earth in an effort to test oil producing sands, the United Natural Gas Company has terminated operations at its test well near Kane, the deepest in eastern United States, and the fourth deepest in the world, it was announced today.

Wedged in the eight-inch hole, a fallen piece of 8 1-4-inch casting not more than a few inches long, has definitely stopped operations at the record-making well. The tools had penetrated the earth to a depth of 7,925 feet when operations were halted.

Started Three Years Ago

The well was started more than three years ago to test the Medina sand which is productive at shallower depths in New York state. This purpose was accomplished when the drills penetrated the sand at about 7,200 feet, where only slight traces of gas were found.

More than $100,000 was expended in sinking the well and interest in its progress has been manifest on all sides.

The comprehensive chart of each formation penetrated and the thousands of samples kept by company geologists is considered invaluabe to that branch of the industry.

Twenty high pressure gas pockets were encountered in the Marcellus shale and Onondaga limestone which blew the tools some times as high as 200 feet in the hole. The well is now producing 20,000 feet of gas daily from the Kane sand.

New Years' Eve In New York Will Be Dully Celebrated

Hotels And Night Clubs Everywhere In Big Metropolis Announce Sellouts

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Prohibition enforcement and increased police activity are not going to interfere with New York's annual reception to the New Year tonight, it was apparent today.

The big town will be just as mad, just as noisy and just as wet as it has ever been.

Everywhere stunts and special parties are being planned. And of course, the greater part of the inhabitants will follow the usual custom of totally ignoring the "obvious" fact that the country is dry. Water—good old H20—will be conspicuous everywhere by its absence, and more than one sardonic toast will be drunk to the Philadelphia judge who recently ruled that a citizen was guilty of violating the law when he purchased anything containing over ½ of 1 per cent.

Virtually all of the hotels and night clubs, particularly those in the white light belt, today announced standing room only.

Battleship Utah Plows Northward Carrying Hoover

Intense Heat Causing Hoover Party Discomfort; Still Far South Of Virginia

FESTIVITIES ARE PLANNED TOMORROW

Mock White House Reception To Take Place New Year's Day On Ship

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ABOARD U. S. S. UTAH, (via Arlington, Va., Radio Station), Dec. 31.—Still a little more than two thousand miles south of the Virginia Capes today, the battleship Utah steamed on Northward while the almost direct rays of the sun beat down on her decks and caused discomfort for all aboard.

Despite the heat, President-elect Hoover was an interested spectator of the finals of the deck tennis tournament which was so severely contested that it could not be completed on Saturday and Sunday.

Everyone aboard is trying to be the first to devise a system which will allow sleeping on the forecastle deck on hot nights without being doused by the spray from the ocean.

Mr. Hoover his not been informed of the elaborate New Year's Day festivities which have been planned to surprise him.

There will be a mock White House reception, with ambassadors and others of the diplomatic corps, justices of the supreme court in their full regalia, senators, congressmen, army and navy officers. The man aboard who smokes a Dawes pipe will take the part of the vice-president.

Projects Outlined.

From his study of conditions in Central and South America it is certain that the Hoover administration will lend its aid to the following projects:

1—Expansion of United States Merchant Marine to Latin America.

2—Operation of air lines linking North and South America.

3—Construction of automobile highways to increase long distance touring between the two continents.

The old project for a Pan-American railroad linking the United States with all parts of South America has been put into the background.

Less Reassuring News From King

King George Has Restless Night, Says Official Bulletin

FIVE PHYSICIANS NOW IN CONSULTATION

(International News Service)

LONDON Dec. 31—News from King George's bedside was less reassuring today.

The king spent a restless night it was officially stated at Buckingham Palace at noon.

Earlier in the day it had been indicated by palace attaches that the royal patient had passed a "fairly comfortable night."

The official medical bulletin which was issued at 12:30 follows:

"The king passed a somewhat restless night. His general condition is maintained, although as previously noted, the state of exhaustion still presents a difficult problem. There is a little more readiness to take nourishment and the local condition is progressing."

This bulletin was signed by Sir Stanley Hewett, Sir Hugh Rigby, Sir E. Farquhar Buzzard, Sir Humphrey Rolleston and Lord Dawson of Penn.

Five Physicians Sign.

The fact that the names of five physicians were signed to the bulletin revealed that another consultation had been held at the palace during the morning. This accounted for the lateness of the bulletin which is usually issued about 11 o'clock.

Continued improvement in the local condition (infection of the right lung) is permitting the doctors to concentrate their efforts to recapture his majesty's lost strength. The noon bulletin however indicates that these attempts so far have been unavailing.

A palace official told International News Service:

"The king's extreme weakness constitutes the physician's chief anxiety. They are still faced with the necessity of overcoming this before all danger is removed."

Poetess, 14, Wins Recognition

Though she has only celebrated her 14th birthday, Mary Virginia Moody (above), Springfield, Mass., girl, is already famous as a poetess and on the way to becoming popular as a novelist. For the early American romance upon which she is working has already been accepted for publication. She's shown on her arrival in New York for a conference with literary advisers.

Whistles, Bells Will Herald 1929

New Year Will Come In At Midnight Tonight; Many Will Watch

OUTLOOK PROMISES DRY CELEBRATION

Tomorrow will be too late to make that resolution, for at midnight the whistles will blow, bells will ring—in many sections of New Castle there will be celebrating—for then it will be 1929. Then the New Year will be heralded in, and 1928, so successful in many ways, will vanish, giving way to a bright, spankin' youngster.

Nineteen hundred and twenty-nine promises to be even more successful than 1928. And it will be memorable in that it will see the start of the third successful Republican administration since the World War.

Many Private Parties

Although there are no great events scheduled in New Castle for this evening, yet all over the city there will be private parties sitting up to watch the New Year in. And, private agents relate, the New Year will come in rather dry here.

It will be the New Year, folks. It should be celebrated, and celebrated rightly. In the past mummers' parades were one of the ways in which the celebrating was done. But today mummers have fallen into disrepute, so that the only way is to make heavy whoopee; and by heavy whoopee your subscriber means noise and lots of noise. He is bound to become a healthy youngster, this little New year; and in adolescence he will be strong and virile; in his age he will not be doddering—looking to things as they were—but he will look ahead—always ahead.

So, ladies and gentlemen, in behalf of the world in general, may we present for your pleasure—His Royal Highness, 1929!

President Coolidge Takes Gun And Starts After Wild Turkeys Today

(International News Service)

ST. SIMMONS ISLAND Ga., Dec. 31.—President Coolidge went some 50 miles south of here this morning supposedly hunting wild turkey on the private 60,000 acre estate of Howard E. Coffin, the auto magnate who has been acting as host to the executive and Mrs. Coolidge for the past five days in these semi-tropical waters. At his request relayed through the secret service, the newspaper men did not accompany him

Governor Smith Is Moving Out

Al Smith Winding Up Affairs At Albany; Roosevelt Takes Office Tomorrow

WILL RETURN TO N. Y. SIDEWALKS

(International News Service)

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 31.—This was moving day for Governor Al Smith, the man who rose from the sidewalks of New York to his party's presidential candidate in the last election moved out of the executive mansion, the place that has been home to him for six straight years.

Tomorrow after Governor-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt has been inaugurated chief executive of the state, Governor Smith will return to his native sidewalk preparatory to launching his career in the business world.

Al Smith with his brown derby and his friendly smile has become almost a fixture in Albany. For the greater part of 25 years he has been a familiar figure at the capitol, first as assembly man, then as presiding office of that body and finally as governor.

CHARGE IS BROUGHT FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

Fugitive Taken After Three-Day Hunt By Posse

Fifteen Hundred Take Part In Hunt For Murderer And Abductor

BELIEVE LYNCHING HAS BEEN AVERTED

Fugitive, Weak, Hungry And Clothing In Tatters, Is Apprehended

(Bulletin)

(International News Service)

SHELBY, Miss., Dec. 31.—Sought for three days by a posse of 1,500 persons, Charles Shepherd, negro murderer-abductor, was captured near here today.

The culmination to the biggest man hunt in the South's history came without violence, and authorities believed they had thwarted a lynching.

Hungry, weak, his clothes in tatters, the fugitive convict stumbled early today into the shack of his brother on a plantation near here.

The brother informed Mrs. Bess Laura May Keiler, mistress of the plantation upon which he was a tenant, and she notified Shelby authorities.

Shelby authorities had little difficulty in capturing the negro, who was almost too weak to move or talk. He was taken in an automobile and whisked to Jackson in an effort to avoid mob violence.

Only a few miles away, hundreds of possemen were combing the countryside, intent upon taking the negro dead or alive. When they heard of the capture they proceeded in the direction of the Keiler plantation.

However, by that time the automobile bearing the criminal was on its way to Jackson. Threats had been made by some of the searchers to burn Shepherd's body in the front of the home of J. D. Duvall, prison guard, whom he murdered with a hammer and ice pick Friday morning. Later he abducted and assaulted his eighteen-year-old daughter, Ruth.

Extra precaution will be taken at Jackson to foil any attempt to take the negro from the hands of authorities. The negro had been declared an outlaw, and rewards had been offered for his capture, dead or alive.

The negro's feat in evading the posse for nearly three day was regarded as remarkable by authorities. A dragnet for him had been extended over all Northern Mississippi. How

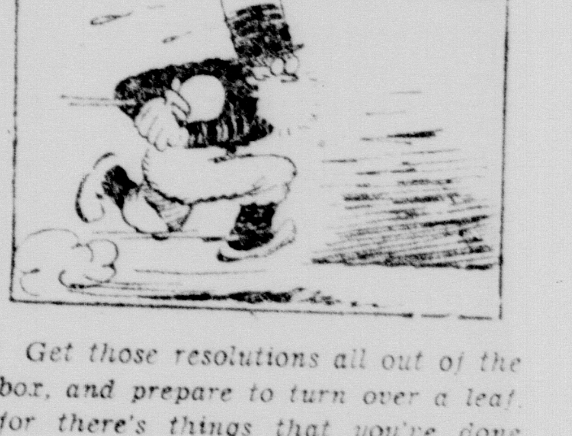
Craig Is Named Assistant Chief

R. B. Craig, fireman, today was appointed by city council to act as assistant chief of the fire department during the absence of Claire Stockman, granted a several months leave of absence, due to his request which he explained is necessary owing to his health.

Arthur Mometer



Get those resolutions all out of the box, and prepare to turn over a leaf, for there's things that you've done that you shouldn't have done, and of things to do new, quite a sheaf. Dust off those resolves that have lain on the shelf and swear to do better my friend, though you'll probably break them to flinders, I wot, before the month comes to an end. But make resolutions its being done much, swear off swearing and cussing and such, and get up on the wagon, what's that you dont drink, you mean you dont drink very much. Get your old resolutions all polished my friend, for the old year is soon on its way, and you'll want to be in on some splendid resolves, its cool, forty-two today.

Legion Heads From District Confer Here

Probably 20 commanders of American Legion posts in the 26th Pennsylvania district were present when the leading legionanires of this district assembled in the local Legion home on Sunday afternoon to consider plans for the national commander's banquet to be held here on February 12 in honor of Paul V. McNutt, national commander: T. A. Gebert, state commander and other leading legionnaires of the country.

Nothing definite was announced by Legion officials today. It is known that arrangements for the scheduled affair were completed and will probably be anounced later.

District Commander M. J. Kane led his fellow legionnaires to the city yesterday. Others present were the three assistant district commanders and others.

Schools Will Open Thursday, January 3

No Need To Fear Sickness Is Opinion Of New Castle School Authorities

The public schools of New Castle will open Thursday, January 3, following the Christmas vacation, states Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools, this morning.

In many other cities the schools will not open until Monday, January 7, because of the prevalence of sickness, but New Castle school authorities feel that in this city there is no need to fear a recurrence of illness such as was experienced immediately prior to the closing of the schools Friday, December 21.

Already some six or more conventions, some smaller and some larger, are booked for this city this coming year. Thousands of outsiders will visit here and take home exactly that impression the town actually leaves them. New Castle has been at the top in everything. Let's keep it there.

Legionnaires of the city are planning extensively the forthcoming visit of their national commander, Paul V. McNutt of Bloomington, Ind. A meeting held at the home yesterday was attended by post commanders from all over the 26th Pennsylvania district. They made their plans during the afternoon. Soon other meetings will be called for the purpose of completing and polishing up arrangements. Not alone is the legion chief coming, but State Commander T. A. Gebert of Pennsylvania. The date is February 12. To this affair, like in events of the past, Pa Newc knows he can assure the legionnaires of the support of all New Castle.

According to a local contractor who has has some grading work to do frost is already down in the ground to a depth of eight inches. While the weather conditions have been comparatively mild so far this winter, yet the frosts have been quite severe and the freezing weather of such severity at times that frost has gone down into the ground further than one has thought.

Lawrence McAllen of 431 Court street, is still another of the New Year's birthday people. He was born Jauary 1, 1907.

Two more little members to the New Year family. Jackie Ritchie of 1226 South Mill street will be three years old tomorrow; Mable Smiley of Andrews street will be eight New Year's day.

The names for the New Year birthday people have been piling and at the close of the orgy, Pa Newc believes that its about a draw. For awhile it looked as though the Christmas folks were going to slip one over on the New Year babies. Pa Newc truly believes its a draw so will close the contest till next year and say Happy New Year to all!

Some one has suggested to Pa Newc that an April Fool's day birthday roll contest be run in the daily chatter column. We don't believe that would be so popular. Peraps a ground hog day would be better. But, then no one wants to be known as a hog or a fool.

Dean Clark, 726 Butler avenue, claims the honor of having been born on New Years Day. He will be sixteen years of age on January 1, 1929, having been born January 1, 1913.

Another who Pa Newc learns was born on New Year's day is Clarence Ruthrauff, 510 Norwood avenue. Ruthrauff is now a senior at Geneva college.

It seems an extravagance, but why shouldn't farmers spend their spare cash for automobiles instead of gold bricks

Deaths of the Day

Issaac Walker Book.

Issaac Walker Book, aged 75, well known and life long resident of Lawrence county, died Sunday, December 30, 1928 at 6:45 a. m. at his home, 1018 Becker street, after an illness of ten days due to pneumonia. Mrs. Margaret J. Marshall.

Mrs. Margaret Jane Marshall, aged 85 years, widow of John Marshall, passed away Saturday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. P. Hazen of Frisco, near Ellwood City, following a brief illness of ten days of the infirmities of age.

Mrs. Marshall was born and raised on the farm on what is now the Fourth ward of Ellwood City. Her parents were Abraham and Elizabeth Smith Cole, pioneer residents of that community. Mr. and Mrs. Cole were united in marriage, February 21, 1823 and were the parents of seven children, Mrs. Marshall being the last of the family.

When a young woman, Mrs. Marshall united with the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church. Of later years she had been a faithful member of the Wampum Presbyterian church where she took a deep interest in all of the church activities and missionary work. She was one of the best known and highly esteemed women of the community where she had lived for many years.

On September 16, 1862, she was married to John Marshall who preceded her in death in February, 1922. To this union four children were born, two of whom are living, Mrs. Margaret Hazen of Ellwood and David M. Marshall of the Marshall Undertaking company at Wampum. She also leaves one niece, Mrs. Sue McCowan of Carnegie and a nephew, W. H. Cole of Ellwood City, six grand children and fourteen great grand children.

The body has been removed to the home of her son, David M. Marshall at Wampum, where it will remain until Tuesday afternoon. Funeral services will be conducted from the Wampum Presbyterian church, Tuesday, January 1 at 2 p. m. Burial will be made in Oak Park Cemetery.

New Trial Denied Michigan Woman, Fourth Offender

(International News Service)

LANSING, Mich., Dec. 31.—Attorneys for Mrs. Etta Miller, mother and grandmother who faces life imprisonment for a fourth liquor law violation, today lost the first skirmish in the incipient legal battle to save her from an automatic life sentence when Judge Charles B. Collingwood refused to consider either a motion for a new trial or a motion to quash the proceedings against her.

Dr. Kernahan Speaker At Ministers Meeting

The First Presbyterian church was well filled Sunday afternoon by visitors from twenty-one cooperating churches to receive their first instructions in regard to the Visitation Evangelistic campaign, as explained by the supervisor in charge, Dr. Earl Kernahan of Boston.

Dr. Kernahan who is a man of pleasing personality gave a very clear and definite outline of the work which the visitors are to follow during next week when they will make personal visits to the hundreds of people who are to be evangelized in this city. He emphasized the fact that more people were won by the Christian people in a campaign of this nature than by having several weeks of evengelistic services with an outstanding evangelist as the speaker.

The Rev. P. C. Pearson, rector of Trinity church presided during the afternoon and introduced the speaker.

Four similar meetings will be held this week as follows: Tuesday evening in the First Baptist church; Wednesday evening at the Third U. P. church; Thursday evening at the Second U. P. church and Friday evening at Highland U. P. church. All these meetings are scheduled for 7:30.

Watch Night Service At St. Luke's Church

An interesting program has been arranged for the Watch Night services this evening in St. Luke's A. M. E. Zion church under the auspices of the trustees of the church.

An important meeting will be held at 8 o'clock at which time all the members of the church should attend. The remainder of the evening from 10:30 to 12 will be spent in a special service.

COLLISION WHEN DRIVER MAKES TURN

Russell B. McNickle, 928 Hazel street, reported Sunday that he was enroute north on Spruce street near Chestnut street, when a car bearing Pennsylvania license 296-879 in front of him.

The driver of the car ahead started to make a left hand turn into a driveway without any signal of his intentions. He went to the left, stopping dead for a moment, then started into the driveway, with the result that the machines were in a collision. Some damage was done.

Influenza Epidemic In Jeannette And Greensburg Raging

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Dec. 31.—With hundreds of cases of influenza reported in the Greensburg and Jeannette districts today physicians are working overtime in an effort to halt the epidemic.

A number of schools in the local district opened this morning but some were considering closing following a survey to determine the prevalence of the disease.

While the mortality rate is low here a number of cases of pneumonia have developed. A peculiar feature of the epidemic is that not one case has developed in the county jail which has 149 prisoners.

1928 AND 1929

BUT a few more hours and 1928 will have passed into history.

Its record, whether good or bad, has been written. Contemplation may bring satisfaction to some of us, to others it may recall only opportunities that were lost, and neglected chances. But, whatever be the situation, 1928 is done. It is gone. Forget it!

Turn your eyes towards 1929. The new year lies directly ahead. Its yield may be rich or poor, largely depending upon what use we make of it. The years have a habit of returning to all of us just about what we put into them. What kind of an investment are you planning to make—service or selfishness?

Make 1929 the best in your life.

Plan to do something worth while, for yourself, for your neighbors, for your city, and for the general good of all.

Then, it will truly be the best year.

VISITATION CAMPAIGN

SOME twenty or more New Castle churches are now engaged in the preliminary work in connection with the launching of a city wide visitation evangelistic campaign during the coming week.

A recent survey revealed that there are six to seven thousand persons of the ages of 12 and over, in this city, exclusive of the Seventh ward, who are not affiliated with any church here but who have leanings that way, or have previously belonged to churches in other cities.

Several hundred New Castle church workers will make a visit to the homes of these thousands, in a concerted effort to have them decide to affiliate with some church in this city.

It is a great, worth while work, that should meet with city wide co-operation that will make it the success that is the aim of the sponsors.

NEW CASTLE—CONVENTION CITY

NEW CASTLE is fast assuming an importance throughout the state as a convention city, that is enjoyed by few of the smaller cities of the commonwealth.

Ample evidence of this fact is to be seen in the latest big group to select this city for the next convention—The Pennsylvania State Educational Association.

This is one of the biggest annual conventions held in the state, and brings together for several days four or five thousand persons, from all parts of Pennsylvania.

The wonderful cathedral, new hotel, and other facilities of New Castle have been the deciding factors in the selection of New Castle for conventions of course, and there probably is no city in the state, big or little, that can offer such an attractive and adequate place for the session of any convention, as the magnificent cathedral building in this city.

The State Sabbath School convention, held here over a year ago, when several thousand were handled with ease in the cathedral building, was an evidence of the feasibility of the cathedral for conventions, that has spread the fame of New Castle far and wide.

New Castle however, is being put to the test in the selection of this city for the State Educational Association convention, a test that will require a lot of preliminary work on the part of its citizens, a lot of co-operation all around, and utilization of all of our facilities, but we are certain that everything that is needed will be readily provided, and that this great convention will be handled in a way that will add further laurels to the fast growing reputation and fame of New Castle as a big convention city.

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

PATIENCE

School children today know more real science than Aristotle, Newton, or Gallileo. The accumulated knowledge of the years, carefully handed down by scholars, has taken care of that. But few school children or grown-ups have the thing that made Aristotle, Newton and Gallileo great. They lack the master qualities of self-control and patience. They lack the self-control which makes them strong enough to keep at their books, and they lack the patience that keeps them going when knowldege doesn't come easily. Above all the great scientific thinkers of the past had patience. They were short on laboratory machinery but they were long on some fine human qualities which seem scarcer today than then.

FUNERALS

It is the custom of a certain tribe in India to have two funerals. One is held at the time of death and the second funeral comes a year later. That would be an interesting custom in this country. What will the community say about you the day after you have passed on, and what will the community say after you have been gone a year? Are we doing anything sufficiently important and useful to justify a funeral a year after we are gone? That would be a good time to sum up some people's lives.

INDEPENDENCE

Be careful what you ask for and from whom you ask it. The average politician, for example, expects a house and lot in return for every two-dollar favor. No matter how much we may want something it is not often worth the price of obligation to another. Success is business or the meeting of emergencies may make borrowing both necessary and wise. But borrowing ought always to be on a cold business basis, leaving no obligation other than the normal obligation to pay back. The sense of independence is one of the happiest "senses" man can have.

FREEDOM

Fortunately the human being, of whatever race, just naturally loves freedom. He not only craves a chance to express himself but if he is normal and decent he believes that all people who are not criminal or insane should have a chance to express themselves—should have a chance at freedom. In Italy the dictator Mussolini does not believe in freedom. He does not believe in freedom of expression or freedom of the press. An interesting result is apparent. Newspapers, forced to submit to government censorship, have lost circulation. That is a sign that people are still normal and healthy. They will read newspapers that enjoy the freedom of the press. They are less interested when they discover there is no longer any independence.

The King's Blood Stream.

No More Ice Age.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

Real estate dealers, old and young, paste in your hats:

One hundred years ago a small piece of land, part of the old Botanical Gardens in New York, was bought for $4,807.36. The land, three blocks, is on Fifth avenue.

John D. Rockefeller Jr. has just secured that piece of property for $100,000,000, an increase to make a good single taxer shudder.

Mr. Rockefeller will use part of the property for a new opera house, to be built in a fashion to allow students and others that have musical talent, but no diamond necklaces, to see and hear.

The money goes to Columbia College, which now owns the land.

That probably reconciles Mr. Rockefeller to so large an investment.

He inherits from his father, who gave tens of millions to the University of Chicago, an interest in educational enterprises.

The king's condition worries his doctors once more. Actinic rays, artificially produced, stimulating the blood's white cells to activity, have worked wonders.

But they must work with such blood as the king has. That blood is tired, poisoned by the invading streptococci.

Transfusion of young, energetic blood, at intervals of three or four days, in small quantities, should have been resorted to.

Dr. Leopold Stieglitz, a distinguished physician of New York, could tell the king's doctors of a recent case in his practice in which a blood infection, almost invariably fatal, caused by the streptococcus mocosus entering the blood stream from the mastoid sinus, was cleared up as though by miracle in a few days, thanks to blood transfusion.

Follow the discussions of 5,000 scientists, gathered in New York, and gain wisdom.

The various ice periods made us what we are, largely. Chasing living creatures from the north toward the equator, they mixed up the races of men and animals.

Before the first ice age, 1,250,000 years ago, the earth's climate was mild everywhere. It will return to that condition about 100,000 years hence.

We have seen the last ice age, probably shall never have another, and should be grateful for those we have had. They made men use their brains and drove them into caves to escape the cold. There, sitting around a smoky fire, primitive man got acquainted with his wife and children. That civilized him, and permanent marriage started.

The ice age started the clothing business. This is not as was formerly believed a young planet, only 500,000,000 years old. It is at least 1,000,000,000 years old. This is proved in many ways, among others by the amount of salt that streams and rivers have washed into the ocean during the billion years.

Herbert Hoover is at work on his inaugural address, a document important to the whole world.

For the first time since George Washington, the President is an engineer, and one that knows the United States, its problems and knows thoroughly the science of engineering.

No knowledge is more important to our industry and prosperity, in which science and engineering play so great a part.

Scientific engineering can protect the United States against all possible danger of invasion or air attack.

It can find work for all those that need it, work for the government, and tremendously profitable to the government.

An association organized in honor of Woodrow Wilson held its annual dinner, but didn't give a peace prize to anybody. Secretary Kellogg certainly worked hard enough to deserve a prize.

President Coolidge deserves two prizes, for continuing to mind his own business and for minding the business of the United States, leaving Europeans to mind theirs.

Perhaps the Wodrow Wilson committe doesn't like to honor any Republican, like the colored lady whose apartment was invaded by a burglar while a Bryan parade was passing. Asked why she didn't scream, she put her head out of the window and replied. "I didn't want folks to think I was hollering for Bryan".

A collection of miserable human beings, losing sleep, undergoing useless torture, engage in a "talking marathon".

The one remaining awake and talking, for the greatest number of hours, receives $1,000.

A civilization that does not allow one man to torture another should not allow human beings to torture themselves for profit.

The "holy man of Benares" who sits all day on sharp spikes, collecting cash from the devout, ought to be taken off his spikes and put to useful work, assuming that he is not a fraud.

Even the Reverend St. Simeon Stylites, sitting on top of his column, would have been a better Christian had he climbed down and worked for the poor.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 4:42. Sun rises tomorrow 7:22.

What some people do not know about parking an automobile on a street is a lot. And then there are others who can back into a space just big enough to take in their cans.

If the next session of the Pennsylvania legislature passes a law making life imprisonment the penalty for four crimes, a lot of lawyers will have less business. There are birds who keep lawyers hired all the time to keep them out of jail.

Most every day some chaps about eighteen or twenty years old come along here looking for jobs. There is one big opening for that kind of fellows in this city and that is selling newspapers in the afternoon. They can make five or six dollars a day easily if they go at it right. They would not have to work more than four hours each evening at that.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

We'r here for but a little while
  We mortals made by God's own hand.
We are even now upon the road
  That leads up to the promised land.

Then if by chance along the way
  That leads us to that havenfair.
We find a brother in distress
  Who's heart is filled with black despair.

What shall we say?; What shall we do?;
  For a brother who is sick and sad.
And burdened with the cares of life
  Shall we rejoice?, Shall we be glad?

Or shall we in his grief take part
  And wipe the tear drop from his eye.
And tell him of the Savior's love
  Who dwells above the bright blue sky.

Now brother if we will do this
  And for some mortal smooth the way.
The Jesus who once died for us
  Our ever kindness will repay.

—By S. E. Weatherby.

A lot of public entertainments and amusements places are greatly handicapped sometimes by the public remaining away from them in great droves.

A woman at York, Pa., has been given five hundred dollars according to the Pennsylvania law, by a hunter who shot and killed her husband because he thought he was a groundhog. If we are to be shot by any hunter we do not want to be taken for a groundhog and have our heirs get only five hundred smackers. Oh, wham de doodle wham!

A great many of those nice pocketbooks received as Christmas gifts have a lot of nice room in them for money.

In some of the big cities in the night clubs great sums of money are being demanded and received for tables for the riot of New Years eve. One can get a far better table and half the price in most any furniture store and feel all the better the next morning.

The Ohio automobile tags for 1929 are green, just like a lot of the drivers from that state.

A lady in Pittsburgh wants a divorce and among the many other cruelties she charges her husband with is that he gave her the same ten dollar gold piece five times for a birthday present. Figure the answer out for that one yourself. Omigosh!

They also have some queer ways of fighting in Mexico. After an army captain had shot and killed two policemen and dangerously injured nine other persons he was knocked down and captured by a stream of water from a fire hose. The water was evidently more than he could stand.

THE ROW IS ON
In Defense of the "Hell-Cat Wife" on North Hill.

"Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned." So, to you, hell-cat, an honor is due. I suppose your lord and master would spell your title woeman, inasmuch as you have brought so much sorrow into his life.

I suppose before you married him he called you by the endearing name his "angel", and no doubt by your association with him and your environments, you have become a hell-cat. Better you had become and developed into wild-cat.

Poor dub that he is, to have recourse to the columns of the press and to bring before the readers the terrible predicament he is in. What respect he has for those three grown-up children, and such malice in his heart for his "hell-cat wife" as he calls you; yes, you,—the mother of his children.

Man is said to be the masterpiece of all God's works.

A pretty thing you have to gaze upon in beholding a masterpiece from the hand of God.

How he differs from old Father Adam in his appreciation. When Adam awoke from his sleep, and beheld for the first time his beloved Eve. He exclaimed, "Behold! The fairest of all things fair." Not so with your dub. I suppose he says, when he wakes from sweet slumber, "Behold! the hell-cat."

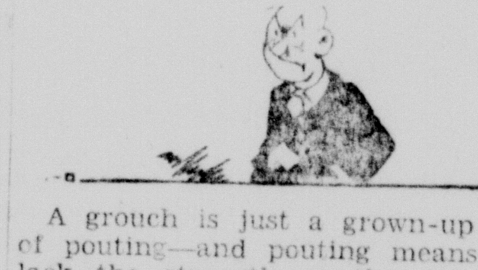
Now, why not live up to the teachings of the Bible. We find therein the passage "Cast not your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, turn again and rend you. Yes, you no doubt have honored, loved and served them in return, and through the press, "he turns and rends you.

Again—do we not find in scripture the words where some men are likened to "wolves in sheep's clothing? Such is my comparison. The man you call husband is but a sheep in wolf's clothing. I hope you will cease to be so amiable, be a veritable wild-cat. See how that turn in events will suit him. A lady in manners and refinement would be out of her sphere in living with a creature so bereft of manhood. He is not worthy the respect a good true wife would care to bestow upon the man she promised to honor love and serve.

His name—I think—will never be written in the Hall of Fame. It would be better placed in the rogues' gallery.

Here's to you, hell-cat. I extend all the sympathy that a friend can give,—hoping you will mete out to that "specimen" all that a "wild-cat" in case it came in close quarters with one so far beneath the status of being a manly man. Tell him to read his bible and refer to the part where he may read: "Thou hyprocrite, First cast out the beam that is in thine own eye, then thou canst see clearly to cast out the mote from thy brother's eye."

A constant reader.

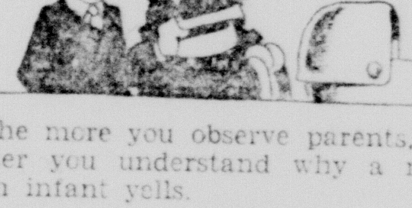


A grouch is just a grown-up way of pouting—and pouting means you lack the strength or the nerve to fight.

We have an idea that if going to war was left to the women of the world there would be no more wars. After all the women do the most suffering during a war and they really ought to have a say as to whether one should be put on or not.

If something serious could only happen to the yaps who blow their automobile horns viciously every time they feel like it. They must like to hear them.

A lot of people want to take the enforcement of the Volstead act out of politics. They evidently want to put politics on the bum.



The more you observe parents, the better you understand why a newborn infant yells.

Corned beef: The fullback who broke training.

There are fifteen thousand actors in New York tramping the pavements looking for work. The show producers claim they cannot send out road shows because the stage hands and musicians in the smaller cities ask so much for their services that it makes it impossible for the show men to make expenses. No doubt some of the actors should also look for jobs they are more fitted for—between wheelbarrow handles for instance.

"Spaghetti will give you the pep of a winner," says an ad. At least it will enable you to string along with the winners.

Another difference between gambling and speculation is that the one who gambles doesn't have to mortgage his house.

Pan-American Unity Forged By Hoover Southern Trip

Americans Also Believe That His Contact With Central An South America Will Produce Better Conditions On Our Continent

Advantages for his own administration and for Pan-American conditions in general are predicted as a result of President-elect Hoover's journey through Central and South America. One belief that is expressed is that his recent hosts on the trip will feel a greater personal interest in their contacts with the government of this country. It is also held that his experience as a world traveler has enabled him to observe keenly along the way and to gain information that will be of value in the diplomatic and commercial affairs of the future.

"Herbert Hoover should be able to carry on the endless work of Pan-American friendship with a surer hand," in the opinion of the WASHINGTON STAR, "than was wielded by any of his presidential predecessors. His trip was an inspiration. It has only temporarily ended. The good that he has done will live after it."

"The numerous addresses he was called upon to deliver in Latin-American countries," according to the SPRINGFIELD REPUBLICAN, "were notable for tact, friendliness and brevity. * * * He comes home with increased knowledge of Latin-America. Such an experienced traveler as he is can absorb information about the new countries he passes through with comparative ease and rapidity." The TOPEKA DAILY CAPITAL adds that "South and Central America will know better whom they are dealing with in the Hoover administration in their North American relations than they have known in the past, and this can not but have a good effect in better understanding and better official relations."

"The purposes of the tour," says the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN, "have been abundantly fulfilled. The President-elect has smoothed his own path in the treatment of Latin American problems by the knowledge acquired, the friendships gained, the personal contacts established." The JACKSON CITIZEN PATRIOT believes that "an understanding has been reached that should enable Mr. Hoover to avoid the friction which in the past has been caused by our failure properly to estimate Latin-American temperament and customs."

Recognizing South America as the "great battleground of American trade today," the RICHMOND NEWS LEADER feels that "it argues well for Mr. Hoover's sense of reality that he selected a good-will tour of South America as his first service after the voters had instructed the electors to name him President." On the commercial side, that paper comments: "In 1926, $314,000,000 of the $441,000,000 of exports to South America consisted of manufactured articles. Wise direction of our trade and the free purchase of the products of South America will raise these encouraging figures much higher."

The interest of the South in these predicted results is expressed by the BIRMINGHAM NEWS, which declares: "In the new day now dawning in this country's relationships with Latin America, no section of the country should be so thrilled by the prospect as should the States of the South—particularly those of the lower South. * * * Men are needed with the Ulysses-like spirit who will dare to fare forth and take their places on the far-flung line of their country's commerce, and take them there as gladly as their forbears have taken them on the firing line in time of war." The News adds that "the President-elect has done his part, and done it effectively. His countrymen now need to do theirs."

"He has made a good job of the good-will tour," in the judgment of the CHARLESTON EVENING POST "and has passed profitably a period which is always difficult for a President-elect, and he is entitled to some leisure and time for reflection and recreation before entering upon the great task which lies ahead of him."

"He came as a friend, desirous of becoming better acquainted," state the INDIANAPOLIS STAR, with th further suggestion: "That is the mos subtle form of effective diplomacy. I becoming more familiar with a par of the world he had never visited an in assuring his official hosts and th people generally of his personal interest and the friendliness of th United States, Mr. Hoover's missio has been highly successful."

"The tangible, definite good resul from this historic journey will begi to come into evidence after Mr. Hoover is inaugurated as President," remarks the PASADENA STAR-NEWS "and after he begins to lay down hi political policies and his recommendations to Congress. Already ther is a wholesome reflex of good feeling toward the government and people of the United States from the republics of Latin America. This i itself is worth the entire journe made by Mr. Hoover. But much mo than this will result." The ALTOON MIRROR holds that "it is apparen that he believed one of the essentia at this time was a friendly demonstration."

"Throughout the tour," says th MADISON WISCONSIN STAT JOURNAL, "it has been the eviden aim of Mr. Hoover to impress upo South American countries that th relation between them and the Unite States should be one of comradeshi and a belief in mutual dependence * * * If this has indeed been accomplished, his trip has been one of th great results not only to the Unite States but also to the world. * * * M Hoover has been an ambassador great value to his country."

"His use of the four months' interval between election and inauguration," advises the CLEVELAN NEWS, "is commendable enough be imitated on future occasions o the kind. And certainly there is n popular impatience on this occasio because the action of the electora is so long in taking effect. But w surmise that the movement to shorte the interim may seem somewhat sensible to Mr. Hoover himself befor March 4." The BROOKLYN DAIL EAGLE thinks that he comes bac "with the knowledge that he has mad an outstanding contribution to th closer integration of the New World."

The MANCHESTER UNION offe the verdict: "He has not been abl to make all our southern neighbor our trusting admirers and friends. T do that would be to work an international miracle. But unquestionabl he has made great progress towar securing a better understanding."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

SHOULD DIVIDE FIFTY-FIFTY

I saw recently a story in "Life" about a College Freshman. The "Freshie" was taking an examination in a subject of which he evidently did not have much exact knowledge. He wrote upon his paper the following, addressed to the professor:

"If you sell any of my answers to the funny papers, I demand a fifty per cent division."

The Freshman had the right idea. There has been a very free use of not only the wit of the College youth but of the school boy and girl as well. A teacher in the public schools either sold or gave this one away:

"All the morning, I had been trying to teach my very small pupils the mysteries of simple addition.

One small boy seemed far behind the others at grasping even the simplest of ideas, and with him I spent quite a lot of time."

"Look here, Leonard," I began for the fifth time. "Let's suppose your father saves $5 every week for four weeks. What will he have at the end of that time?"

Leonard had his answer ready.

"A graphophone, a new suit, a wireless set and new furniture for the house," he replied proudly.

Leonard ought to have received a nest egg for that.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE OLD YEAR

They bring no roses to his bier.
For him there's none to shed a tear
And none to mourn for the dying year.

Though once he seemed so young and fair.
For him the world has ceased to care,
No longer has he joys to share.

They've taken all he came to bring,
They've gathered all his flowers of spring
And stripped him bare of everything.

They've had the worst of him and best;
Divided all he once possessed.
Unheeded now he sinks to rest.

Here comes a year that's good to know,
A year with favors to bestow,
Strike up the band and shout "hello!"

Loud be the welcoming cries that ring
"The King is dead! Long live the King!
Here's to the joys the new may bring!"

And yet perhaps 'tis wisely so
The hopes of men must forward go.
There must be better years to know.

Sad were the world and sad were men
If happiness should come, and then
Die and no more return again.

So mourn not at the old year's close.
Onward the march of progress goes,
Which year is best man never knows.

SOBRIETY—

Never cost any man his job.
Never ruined the reputation of a neighborhood.
Never lowered the standard of a man's work.
Never decreases a man's earning capacity.
Never imposes a hardship upon a family.
Never marks a man for an early discharge.
Never fails to show higher profits than intemperance.

The talkies have one advantage. The audience applauds the good spots and the bum parts click right aloud and are drowned out.

Senator King Urges Disarmament Meeting

Utah Senator Would Postpone Action On "Cruiser Bill" For One Year

Appeals To Administration To Invite New Disarmament Conference

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—An appeal to President Coolidge and President-elect Hoover to summon the nations of the world here for a new disarmament conference, along with a postponement of action on the administration's "big navy" bill for one year, was made today by Senator William H. King, (D) of Utah.

King called the administration's attention to the activities of the preparatory commission of the League of Nations, which is negotiating for a new disarmament conference, and to the pending ratification of the Kellogg Multilateral Anti-War treaty. With these peace moves under way, King declared the United States should postpone all increasing armament moves until the government can determine whether world disarmament is possible.

"I appeal to President Coolidge and to President-elect Hoover to withhold action on the cruiser bill until next December," said King. "In the meantime, they can initiate a move for a new disarmament conference either independent of or in co-operation with the preparatory commission of the League of Nations.

"If these efforts for disarmament fail and there is a disposition on the part of other nations to strengthen their armaments, then I would not oppose a cruiser bill."

In "Hypocritical" Light

King asserted the United States is put in a "hypocritical" position by sponsoring a pact to outlaw war while at the same time, expending its fighting navy.

He warned the administration that the passage of the new cruiser bill would slow down the construction of the eight great cruisers already authorized by congress.

reign supreme during the entire session with all forces pulling together for as early an adjournment as will be deemed advisable. A record quantity of legislation is ready to be presented and the usual factional disagreements have as yet failed to rear their heads.

Harmony Predicted.

State Chairman Martin issued a statement declaring that "indications point to the most harmonious session in years. There has been no sign of a contest in any direction and the legislature should be short and snappy, about the same length as the last one."

Governor Fisher expressed a similar view when he said: "It is my hope that we will have a short but businesslike session at this time. I cannot see anything that will interfere with an early adjournment."

Reports are that Charles F. Bidelspacher, of Williamsport, will probably be the administration floor leader in the house while Norman L. Bonbrake, of Chambersburg, is slated for the same position in the senate.

Harris Is Active.

Senator Frank J. Harris, of Pittsburgh, who was one of the early arrivals, will probably continue the work of his brother, the late Senator John P. Harris, in leading the way for many of the proposed election reform measures. He plans to hold public hearings on the proposed reforms during the January 2-14 interim of the assembly.

The 22 Democratic members of the assembly will caucus at the Penn-Harris hotel tonight at 6:30 while the house Republicans will meet at the capitol at 8:30 tonight. Republican members of the senate will meet later in the evening.

Reports Effort Made To Rob Him

Robert Walsh, 205 Sheridan avenue, who is employed at the confectionery store at the East End of the Grant street bridge, reported early this morning to the police, that while enroute home with the proceeds of Sunday's business in his possession, that an unknown man attempted to hold up and rob him.

According to the report, Walsh closed up late and he took what money there was on hand, placing it in a bag.

He was walking home on Highland avenue and when near Winter avenue, he noticed a man walking behind him. Becoming frightened, he started to run.

Between Leasure and Sheridan avenues, he fell and when he attempted to get up, the man was up to him and made a grab for him.

Walsh hit the man with the bag of money and managed to break away.

He described the man as being large in size and wearing dark clothing.

Braddock Clothing Store Fire Damaged

Damage Of $10,000 In Braddock Today As Fire Occurs; Firemen Rescue Woman

(International News Service)

BRADDOCK, Pa., Dec. 31.—Firemen rescued one person, five others narrowly escaped and damages estimated at $10,000 was done to the Hub Clothing Store here today when fire broke out in the basement.

Mrs. Ralph Geddis, 66, aroused by smoke entering her apartment on the third floor, awakened her two daughters and three roomers, and tried to escape down the smoke-filled stairway. Firemen found the woman who had been ill, on the floor and carried her to safety. The others were assisted to the street. Geddis was absent at the time.

Sam Sirman, proprietor of the store, said the fire was caused by an overheated automatic gas heater in the basement of the three story building. The second floor is occupied by offices.

Officers Suspect Actions Of Man

While detailed for duty Saturday at the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie depot, Detective John Young and Motorcycle Officer Augostine came upon Tony Ingram, negro and searched him, being suspicious of his actions.

They found he had two hot water bottles in his possession which had an odor of moonshine on them.

On being questioned he stated that he had been given the hot water bottles to deliver to McKinley Jordan, negro whom he expected in on a train or street car at any time. Because of the fact that there was nothing serious against him they allowed Ingram to go.

Burning Chimney Calls Out Firemen

A chimney burning out was the cause for a fire alarm turned in from box 48 Sunday morning at 12:25, which called No. 4 fire department to the home of F. A. Beard, 1020 Maryland avenue.

No action was taken. Mr. Beard called the department because he thought that his house might catch on fire from the burning chimney. The company reported back in service at 12:45.

Leaking Chimney Is Cause Of Fire

Damage Approximated At $1,000 Is Done To Division Street Home Sunday

Starting in a first floor closet from a defective chimney, fire did a damage of $1,000 to the frame home of Joe Melito, 423 Division street Sunday evening. The alarm was sounded at 10:50 p. m. and company No. 5, along with truck B. from the Central Fire Department, responded.

The fire, states Assistant Fire Chief Clare H. Stockman, started in a closet from a leak in the chimney. It then burned through the floor, up a partition, and across the ceiling on the first floor. One hundred and fifty feet of hose and a reducer line from the No. 5 engine was used, along with the booster tank of the Pirsch service truck from the Central Fire department.

Damage to the building is approximated at $700, and to the contents at $300. Both trucks were back in service at 12:25 this morning.

Investigate Finding Of Bloody Clothing

(International News Service)

SAYRE, Pa., Dec. 31.—Police today were attempting to solve the mystery surrounding the finding of a blood-stained shirt and underclothes of a man and the dress of a little girl on the Lehigh Valley tracks near here and so far their efforts have proved futile.

The shirt, part of which had been cut away, has two holes which are believed to be bullet holes. The clothing was wrapped in an issue of a New York newspaper dated December 7. It is being held at the police station in Waverly, N. Y. across the state line from here.

Police said they were continuing their investigation although no clues have been found as yet that might lead to the identity of the owner of the clothing.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Talked Too Much Court Tells Woman

BEAVER, Pa., Dec. 31.—When J. M. Smith, railroader of Canton, O., was arraigned in court at Beaver on a charge of desertion and non-support he was interrupted in his testimony several times by his wife who lives in Beaver Falls. So insistent and disturbing were her interruptions that Judge Frank E. Reader remarked:

"If you talk to your husband as much at home as you have here I do not blame him for leaving you."

However, Smith was ordered to pay $15 a week for the support of his family.

Hospital Filled To Overflow With Many Sick People

BEAVER, Falls, Pa., Dec. 31. — Space is at a premium at the Providence hospital due to the many patients seeking admission for treatment. As a result the reception room was turned into a ward and rapidly filled with sick people. Every ward bed is taken as are all private rooms so that the hospital attaches are at a loss for further accommodations should a fresh emergency arise. Most of the cases admitted at present call for medical treatment and the hospital staff is not losing any time in looking after their welfare.

With the capacity at 50 the hospital now contains 60 or more patients who are being cared for despite crowded conditions.

Injured By Dog, Woman Is Seeking $100,000 Damages

(International News Service)

MEDIA, Pa., Dec. 31.—Injuries sustained when bowled over by a playful police dog resulted today in Miss Myrne M. Whipple, pretty 24-year old musician of Upper Darby filing suit for $100,000 damages in the Delaware county court here against Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Taggart of Milbourne.

Miss Whipple charges she was knocked down by the police dog owned by the couple last summer receiving injuries which marred her beauty and wrecked her career. She claims to have sustained a fractured skull which caused her to remain in the Hahnemann hospital in Philadelphia for several weeks. Miss Whipple said she was finally discharged after a silver plate was inserted over the fractured bones.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND
BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE HOME

"Never had any Pigeon a more wonderful mother than mine!" Carrier Pigeon puffed out his chest. "Doesn't she sound like a mother to be proud of?"

"I'll say so!" said Peter, and meant it. Satisfied, Carrier Piegon went on with his story.

"Scarcely had mother finished speaking when I heard steps upon the barn floor. Someone was coming. It must be a Two-Legs. No bird could possibly make a noise as loud as that! Could it be the Two-Legs I was looking for?

"I did so badly want to leave my nest and fly to meet him, but I remembered what mother had just said, to 'practice patience,' so I did. I was glad I had, for it was my Two-Legs, and when he saw me he cried:

"'Hello, there! How is the little carrier this morning? You look pretty fine, as if you were rested enough to take a three-mile fly today. Not a feather ruffled.'

"How happy I was to hear him say that! You see, if I had not been patient I would have looked all ruffled up and maybe he would not have taken me out at all. But he did.

"Sure enough, he carried me off much farther than he had last time, and it was then I had my first ride in a house on wheels. 'Chug-chug-chug,' I heard a queer sound. Even yet, I am not sure what it was. And then away we started, and so fast that I thought for a moment I was going to be dizzy. But I soon got over that and had as much fun as did Two-Legs himself.

"I flew so well that day that on my next trial master let me fly six miles, and then twelve, and do you know, at the end of the season I was able to fly 250 miles all by myself, and some right straight back home.

"I grew so speedy that I could fly fifteen yards every second. Of course I didn't know anything about it, but master said that it was fine—one of the best records that any pigeons he had trained had ever made."

"Say, Carrier Pigeon, how did you really find your way back home?" asked Peter suddenly. 'Was it by instinct or by sight? I remember my father saying he wished he knew the secret!"

Mission Sent Out Eighty Baskets

In a report made by the officials of the City Rescue Mission on Saturday, it is shown that between 70 or 80 baskets were given out by the organization for Christmas this year. The mission is thankful to all who contributed in behalf of the needy folks and to those who made it possible for the Mission to bring about the Christmas cheer.

The children of the Mission Sunday school and sewing classes also had a joyous party at which they received candy, nuts and each a present. This occurred shortly before Christmas.

Benjamin J. Watkins, superintendent of the Mission, states that the demand for Christmas baskets was great this year. Requests for them are still being received and are being filled just as soon as possible, he states.

Forty-Seven States Represented At Penn

Many Students At University Also Come From Foreign Countries

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 31.—Forty-seven states, four territories and thirty-one foreign countries are represented by the 6707 students enrolled in the University of Pennsylvania this term as candidates for degrees on full-time, according to a survey made by Vice-Provost George A. Brakeley, which reveals the geographical distribution of the student body.

In addition there are students from a number of states and foreign countries among the 2112 enrolled as candidates for degrees on part-time, the 2916 who are candidates for certificates, and the 2908 registered as hearers and special students, all of whom are included in the University's total registration of 14,643.

Although every state except Wyoming has sent full-time candidates for degrees to the University and foreign countries also are well represented, a total of 3979 of the students in this class or nearly 60 per cent of the group are residents of the state of Pennsylvania, the survey shows.

State Huntsmen Ask Code Change Of Legislators

State Legislators Asked To Make Changes In Game Code At New Session

SHOULD FIX SEASON FOR OPEN HUNTING

(Editor's Note:—Former State Representative Chester H. Rhodes, leader of the sportsmen of northeastern Pennsylvania in the fight against the state game commission's edict opening the game paradises of the state for the killing of does and antlerless deer, advocates a revision of the game code at the session of the legislature opening New Year's day. He offers his suggestion in the following article.)

By CHESTER H. RHODES

(Written Expressly for International News Service.)

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Dec. 31.—Pennsylvania's sportsmen desire a revision of the game code at the session of the legislature which opens tomorrow. The counties of northeastern Pennsylvania naturally resented the arbitrary action of the game commission in opening the season on deer without antlers and closing the season on bucks with only superficial investigation of local conditions.

However, I do not believe that all discretionary power of the game commission should be taken away. Therefore, amendments to the game laws should be framed with care. But the unlimited discretion of the commission should be curtailed. It should not be a "supreme and uncontrollable body." The legislature should fix the regular open season for game, and specify the game to be protected.

Should Change Methods

The methods for changing the laws should be definitely fixed. The closing of seasons or shortening of the seasons for the purpose of conserving game in any given locality should be initiated by either the board or the residents of the affected district. A 30-day notice of such intention should be given by the board and if no objection is filed within that time, the change would be effective. If objection is made by a fixed number of individuals, or upon a petition filed by them, a hearing should be held by the board after due notice, testimony taken, the facts impartially determined and the action of the board based on evidence produced and the final action of the board duly advertised. The hearing should be held in the county or in the district affected. From the boards decision appeals to the courts of common pleas for the various counties which the rulings would apply should be permitted within a specified time.

The game problem is becoming more complex and a state-wide law or ruling is not always proper or for the best interests of game conservation. I believe that local conditions should primarily determine the action to be taken, and hence, an open season on protected game, like does should certainly be based on conditions in the various localities. The legislature never intended a state-wide open season on protected game. The legislature should reserve to itself such action.

New Code Needed

The license year should be changed to a later date and all actions of the board relating to statutory open or closed season taken at a sufficiently early date to permit definite determination before the beginning of the license year.

To avoid future trouble and a repetition of the demoralization of the game commission in its recent affair, a code of procedure should be prescribed by the legislature and to which the commission should be obliged to strictly adhere. The usefulness of the game commission should be preserved, but its value depends on its having the confidence and cooperation of the people of the commonwealth. Both must be retained. Proper legislation in 1929 and right personel are necessary to accomplish this.

Two Gangsters Shot To Death

Gun Battle Occurs In South Side Cabaret In Chicago

CROWD IN PLACE THROWN INTO PANIC

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—Hugh "Stubby" McGovern and William "Gunner" McFadden, both well known police characters, were shot and killed early today in a south side cabaret. George Maloney, owner of a cigar store in the vicinity, is under arrest charged with the shooting.

The place, known as the Granada cafe, contained 150 guests and 30 waiters and attendants at the time of the shooting. They were thrown into a panic by the fussillade of bullets.

Maloney, arrested by Detective Sergeant Tim Sullivan as the former was fleeing the scene, claimed self-defense. He said he was sitting near McGovern and McFadden when the two began to quarrel and drew revolvers.

"When they started shooting," Maloney is quoted as saying, "I drew my own gun to protect myself. I don't know just what happened after I drew."

Both men were killed instantly. McGovern was shot through the heart and McFadden went down with a bullet in his brain and two more through his chest.

McGovern had a long record as a beer runner and racketeer. McFadden too, police say, had been identified as a member of various "back of the yards" beer running gangs.

Aviators Bound For Panama Fail To Get Away At N. Y. Field

(International News Service)

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., Dec. 31.—Oliver C. Le Boutillier and Captain Lewis Yancey made two attempts to take off for France field, Panama, in Mrs. Anne U. Stillman's Bellance Monoplane North Star today. The first was abandoned when the plane was half way down the runway. The second was ended as the plane passed over Garden City, when Le Boutillier dumped his gasoline load and came back to earth on Mitchell field.

The wind, which was from the northwest, was blowing about ten miles an hour at the take-off. Weather reports from Dr. James H. Kimball, of the U. S. Weather bureau, were to the effect that the flyers were due to strike cloudy weather all the way to Florida, with possible rain below Cape Hatteras and fog at Jacksonville.

Legislators To Pass On Appropriations Won By Bond Issues

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 31.—Samuel S. Lewis, state treasurer, who opposed all of the bond issues defeated at the last election, today asserted that responsibility for "liberal appropriations" to those interests now rests upon the legislature.

Lewis opposed the bond issue because, he said, all needs of the commonwealth's agencies could be financed from current revenues.

Lewis called attention to the fact that the treasury statement tomorrow will show a balance of $35,000,000 in the general fund as compared with $300,000 on August 1, 1922 when there was also $18,000,000 of unpaid bills.

Span Of Life Can Be Extended, Says Noted Scientist

Scientists In Annual Conference Told Man May Now Live Over 100 Years

PHYSICAL DEFECTS PROPERLY CORRECTED

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Prediction that science can find a way to further extend the span of human life was made today by Dr. Eugene Lyman Fisk, medical director of the Life Extension Institute of New York City, in an address at the convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, which is being attended by 5,000 learned men and women from all parts of the United States.

Dr. Fisk declared it was wrong for man to figure that his years are numbered to the Biblical "three score and ten" and that he should spend his life figuring out how to enjoy himself rather than devising ways and means to live to a ripe old age.

The human life cycle has been greatly extended within the last 100 years by the application of scientific principles, he pointed out, but there is room for even greater achievement. Living to the age of 100 years and longer for many people is not inconceivable, he indicated.

"I am willing to admit," he asserted, "that only a comparatively limited extension of human life—say 10 to 15 years—can be attained by simple adjustment of personal hygiene and the correction of physical defects found on periodic health examinations.

Police Probe Shooting Case

Wounded Man Taken To Hospital; Gun Wielder Is Fugitive

While Motorcycle Officer Ralph Criswell was on duty in the vicinity of the eighth ward fire department on Scioto street early Sunday evening, Mike Litwinowich of 28 West Long avenue, rushed up to him, stating that there had been a shooting at 1114 South Jefferson street. This was about 7:20 p. m.

Officer Criswell rushed to the number given, which was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Pasco. Here he found Mr. and Mrs. Pasco and Louis Bogdin, 28 West Long avenue, the latter suffering from a bullet wound in the right forearm.

The officer ordered the wounded man to the New Castle hospital, Officer Walls, who came in on the scene, accompanying him to the hospital.

Officer Criswell learned that Bogdin had been shot by Sam Rupko, of 936 North Liberty street, during an argument. Mr. and Mrs. Pasco claimed to have been upstairs during the argument, but Mike Litwinovich claimed to have come downstars just in time to see Rupko pull the gun and shoot Bogdin.

Mrs. Rupko, according to the information given Officer Criswell, had been at the Pasco home about seven o'clock, when her husband came in. The others were gathered there.

Mr. and Mrs. Rupko started to have an argument and all went upstairs with the exception of the Rupkos and Bogdin. Apparently Bogdin had entered into the argument between man and wife and the shooting followed.

Following the shooting Rupko went out a side door and got into his car and drove away. Mrs. Rupko had also left before the officer arrived.

With this information Officer Criswell started for the Rupko home, but found no one there.

Later Lieutenant of Police Peter Hillers, Detective C. G. Logan and Officers M. J. Young and Dukes went out searching for Rupko, but failed to locate him, although his machine was found parked near his home.

Today Detective John Young was continuing the effort to locate Rupko. At the hospital it was stated that an X-ray would be taken of the arm of Bogdin today to determine the full extent of his injuries.

Chimney Cause Of Blaze Today

Approximately $600 Loss Is Sustained At Division Street Home

Fire, originating in a defective chimney, did approximately a $600 damage to the double frame building, occupied by Frank Conti and Lawrence Cresce at 313-315 Division street this morning at 3:45 o'clock. Company No. 5 and truck B from the Central Fire department answered the alarm.

The fire, states Assistant Fire Chief Clare H. Stockman in his report, started in a first floor closet from a bad chimney. From there it burned up through the studding to the second floor of the house and then spread out to the front and the rear of the building. However, the blaze was successfully over come by the departments by using 150 feet of hose and a reducer line.

Mr. and Mrs. Conti, an aged, sick couple, were sleeping in the front first floor room of the house when the fire started, and with much effort Mr. Cresce broke through their door and rescued them. Both departments were back in service again at 4:30 this morning.

Nation's Treasury Is Facing Deficit

Thirty To Forty Million Deficit Looms In United States Treasury, Says Anthony

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—The nation's treasury faces a deficit of from $30,000,000 to $40,000,000 at the end of the fiscal year ending June 30, Rep. Anthony (R) of Kansas, chairman of the House Appropriations committee, said today.

A deficit may be avoided, he stated, only by the exercise of the utmost economy by Congress and by unusually heavy tax receipts as a result of general industrial prosperity.

Ask Full Record Of Sinclair Case Be Shown To Court

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—The Supreme court was asked today by government oil counsel to order the entire record in the contempt case of Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oil magnate, brought to the court from the district court of appeals.

The motion, filed by Atlee Pomerene and Owen J. Roberts, special counsel, said that without the full record the court can not decide all the points involved in the Sinclair case on five abstract questions of law which were certified to it by the lower court.

The appeal which arose from Sinclair's conviction and sentence of ninety days in jail for failure to answer questions in the oil scandal investigation in the Senate is scheduled for argument shortly.

Ridgway Man Is Killed; Thrown From His Auto

RIDGWAY, Pa., Dec. 31.—Paul J. Amacher, 26, of Ridgway, was fatally injured early today when the car in which he was returning from Bradford left the Buffalo-Pittsburgh highway three miles from here, throwing Amacher through the top of the car and fracturing his skull.

Amacher died in the hospital shortly after being found. It was believed that the car swerved from the road, jumped a culvert and plunged Amacher through the top of the coupe, landing on a pile of rock. He had been employed by a Bradford concern. He was married, and was the son of John A. Amacher, of Grant Road.

FLU SITUATION SERIOUS

Government medical heads report that the present influenza situation is serious, and believe that there is every indication that the epidemic is spreading rapidly.

This is a typical influenza epidemic and it is similar to the 1918 outbreak in the mildness of the first cases. The death rate now is low in proportion to the number of cases and consequently there is no need for public alarm. However any epidemic so widespread as this one is serious, and there is every justification to think that this year's mortality rate will be greater than that of 1926.

Deaths in the 1918 epidemic were 500,000 in excess of the normal number from the disease. In 1920 there were 100,000 excess deaths, and in 1926 20,000.

DR. HOYT'S
PROVEN PRESCRIPTION
—NO. 17—
INFLUENZA
(Grippe)

Dr. Hoyt's No. 17 was Formulated Specifically for Influenza.
It is a highly successful treatment widely used during the epidemic of 1918 and successive epidemics.
This prescription contains no harmful ingredients and is safe for administration to children.

REDUCES SEVERITY OF FLU
At Leading Drug Stores.

Flu Precautions

It should be remembered that as a rule Influenza increases in severity toward the end of the epidemic and due to the systemic nature of the disease, relapses and complications are more serious.

Avoid crowds and persons affected with colds. Influenza may start as a common cold, and is usually distinguished by general aches and pains, and chills followed by rapidly rising temperature.

At the first indications of fever patients should go to bed, and remain in bed or at least avoid all exposure for several days after the fever has subsided.

During the Influenza epidemic of 1918, F. H. Hoyt, M. D. developed his Prescription No. 17, specifically for the treatment of Influenza. This remedy was widely used during 1918 and successive epidemics with beneficial results.

Persons exposed to colds and influenza should antisepticize the nose and throat several times daily with Dr. Hoyt's Atomizer Oil.

Old Guard Anxious Over Next Cabinet

By CHARLES P. STEWART.
Washington Correspodent for Central Press and New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—Presumably President-elect Hoover is back home from Latin-American waters with his cabinet slate all framed up. G. O. P. "old guardsmen" await a look at it in deep anxiety—trepidation in fast. From its appearance they will deduce what Mr. Hoover is likely to mean to them after March 4 next.

The truth is they augur ill. Mr. Hoover's departure for the southern hemisphere just when as they consider he ought to have been consulting them, is interpreted by the old guard as a bad sign.

Some guesses on Mr. Hoover's cabinet selections are:

State portfolio—Senator William E. Borah, Roland W. Boyden, Boston lawyer, known principally as America's unofficial observer of war reparations; Senator Theodore E. Burton, Charles G. Dawes, Henry P. Fletcher ambassador to Italy, who has accompanied Mr. Hoover on his South American tour; Hugh S. Gibson, ambassador to Belgium; Alnson B. Houghton, ambassador to England, recently beaten for the senate from New York; Charles Evans Hughes, ex-Senator I. R. Lenroot of Wisconsin; Dwight W. Morrow, ambassador to Mexico, late of J. P. Morgan & Co.; Silas Strawn, Chicago lawyer and chairman of the board of Montgomery Ward & Co., the mail order concern.

Treasury—Andrew W. Mellon, to hold on; S. Parker Gilbert, war reparations; Adolph C. Miller of the federal reserve board; Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills.

War—Dwight F. Davis, to keep his prosent job; Hanford MacNider, Iowa banker, ex-assistant secretary of war and former head of the American Legion; Gen John J. Pershing, Col. John G. Tilson Republican leader in the house of representatives; ex-Senator James Wadsworth of New York.

Justice—Assistant Attorney General William J. Donovan ("Wild Bill") considered almost a cinch; Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt.

Postoffice—Harry S. New to remain; C. Bascom Slemp former private secretary to President Coolidge and southern Republican political shark; President C. C. Teague of the California Fruit Growers Exchange.

Navy—Curtis D. Wilbur to stay—from which it is not to be inferred however—simply because he is the only one mentioned—that he probably will succeed himself—for the betting is rather the other way.

Interior—Louis S. Cates, Salt Lake City; millionaire mining engineer; Robert L. Owen, Democratic ex-senator from Oklahoma who bolted to the Hoover ticket during the last campaign; Julius Rosenwald of Sears, Roebuck and Co. the chicago mail order house; Dr. Hubert Work who probably is suggested merely because he formerly held the post but is much likelier to remain as Republican national chairman.

Agriculeure—William M. Jardine to stay; J. R. Howard of Clemens, Iowa; Senator Charles L. McNary of McNary-Haugen fame; Eugene Meyer Jr., of the war finace corporation.

Comemrce—Julius C. Barnes expresideint of the United States Chamber of Commerce; Assistant Secretary of Commerce Walter F. Brown, ex-Congressman James W. Good of Iowa ex-Assistant Secretary of Commerce Claudius C. Houston of Tennessee; Director Julius Klein of the commerce department'es bureau of foreign and domestic commerce.

Labor—James J. Davis to continue in office; William N. Doak of Virginia, legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; President Wililam Green of the American Federation of Labor; Raymond Robbins, Chicago welfare worker.

This is a tolerably complete list as the old guardsmen guess it. Mr. Hoover's list may be a very different thing.

Plan Program For Celebration At Union Baptist Church

Colored Ministers Arrange Program For Anniversary Of Emancipation Proclamation

The ministers of the Colored Ministerial and their Choirs met at the Y. W. C. A. on Elm street Sunday afternoon and completed plans for the celebration of the Emancipation Proclamation at the Union Baptist Church on Grant street Tuesday at 8 p. m. January 1, 1929.

The Ministers were much pleased with the attendance at this meeting each of the choirs were well represented, and they went beyond the expectation of the ministers, for the five choirs organized themselves into a permanent chorus to serve with the ministerial in the church day that is to be had every fourth Sunday in the month.

Oration—Rev. W. M. Hodge.

American the Beautiful— by the girl's quintet.

Benediction—Rev. A. C. Bell.

Rev. A. C. Bell the secretary of the Ministerial will be the master of ceremonies for the evening.

State Revokes Licenses Of 83

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 31.—The Department of Highways revoked the automobile drivers' licenses of 83 persons during the week ending December 27, it was announced today.

Nine licenses were revoked for failure to file accident reports as required by the section of the motor vehicle code passed at the last session of the legislature. They included Mike Legenzoff, of Erie, and Carl Lundberg, of Indiana.

The 20 revocations for intoxication included Charles Snyder and Charles Foust, both of Chambersburg. The license of Michael Matusek, of Bethlehem, was one of the eight revoked for reckless driving.

Larceny and failure to stop after an accident caused the revocation of the license of Angelo Marasco, of Erie. The license of W. F. Prebble, Beaver Falls, was revoked for transporting liquor and that of Dominick Stackewich, Bethlehem, for having loaned his operator's license, Harvey Millers, Hessdale, lost his license on the charge that he is a habitual user of intoxicating liquor and Earl Whitmore, Stroudsburg, for having been involved in a fatal accident.

Divorce Rate In Chicago Climbs

CHICAGO, Dec. 31—Chicago's divorce rate for 1928 exceeds that of the previous year by 401 decrees statistics compiled today by clerks of the superior and circuit court show.

Of 9,621 decrees 7,300 were obtained by wives and 2,309 by husbands. The survey shows 85 percent of the couples were childless but that the breaking of the marital ties in the cases of the other 15 per cent left 5,664 children homeless.

Cruelty was the most popular ground for divorce. The figures were cruelty, 4,173; desertion 3,944; drunkenness 1,023 and infidelity 431.

Historic Lawrence County; President Taylor Visits

New Castle has been noticed by some presidents, passed through by others but one day a real president actually visited the city and took a sight seeing trip as well as entertaining the ladies of the city.

In 1849, the evening of August 22 at 5:30 o'clock, a gun on Shaw hill fired a salute. It was the signal that president Zachary Taylor of the United States, accompanied by Governor Taylor of Pensylvania were about to enter the thriving metropolis of New Castle, then some 3,000 inhabitants, by way of the Erie Express Packet.

There was quite an affair. The president was not rushed to a hotel for a bawth or lemonade but the grand procession started immediately. The committee of reception of which David Craig was chairman, led the procession on horse back; the brass band followed; martial band; then the president and governor riding in an open carriage holding their high stove pipe hats on their arms and bowing to cheering crowd of spectators; then the military escort; and last of all the citizenry which included bad boys and numerous dogs followed the procession.

The procession moved about the little dusty town on the warm evening from Jefferson up to East, up to North and back down to Jefferson again and then up about to Mill street. Of course the route is not sure, but from the descriptions which have been left the course followed would lead us on these present streets, it is thought. Following the procession David Craig made an open air welcome address to which President Taylor responded.

Bright and early the next morning, so the records say, the President and the party visited the various industries and parts of the city. The President visited the old Sophia furnace and stated that it was the first he had even seen.

Then at 9 a. m., the President entertained the ladies of the city at a reception which took place in the Presbyterian church.

Following this, the official program was over and the presidential party left the city about noon.

Revival Makes Good Progress

Many Are Being Touched By Services At Pentecostal Tabernacle

A great wave of revival is sweeping men and women into the kingdom of God at the Pentecostal tabernacle, South street nightly during the special campaign now being held.

Sunday at the morning service Dr. Logan's address was especially for the young converts (Obeying God and His word regardless of the cost) from the text, John 2:5, "Whatsoever He saith unto you, do it."

At the evening service the building was crowded to capacity. A special delegation from Sharon, Pa., where Rev. Logan had formerly conducted a revival with great success.

The greatest question America faces today was ably presented by the evangelist. He declared, "We are living in an age of big questions politically, socially, and religiously God alone can help us meet and settle.

The greatest and most important question is not the labor or prohibition question, great as they are, but the one that Pilate, the Roman governor, asked in the Judgment hall when Christ stood before him, "What shall I do with Jesus?" Pilate tried to evade answering this question by sending the Christ to Herod but in vain, so every one must do something with Christ, either receive or reject Him. Pilate crucified the Lord Jesus because he asked the wrong crowd. Had he only asked his friends who had been healed and redeemed He would have released Him in place of Barrabas. Many are rejecting Christ because they are listening to the wrong crowd. The voices of all the redeemed cry, "Make Him thy Lord!"

At the close of the service the altar was filled with those seeking God.

The revival meetings continue each night at 7:30 with a special watch-night service tonight.

Hi-Y Clubs Will Meet Next Week

None of the Hi-Y clubs of the New Castle schools will meet this week, states William Thomas, boys secretary of the local Y. M. C. A. and sponsor to these boys clubs.

There have been no meetings of the Senior Hi-Y, the Ben Franklin and George Washington Hi-Y clubs during the past week due to the fact that there has been no school. As the school sessions do not begin until after the meeting nights of the clubs this week it was decided to postpone the activities until next week.

Start Preliminary Work On Edenburg To Hillsville Highway

Ditches Being Dug And Grading Work Will Be Started In Short Time

Preliminary work has been started on the improvement of the mile and a half stretch of highway from Edenburg towards Hillsville as recently contracted for. Drainage ditches are being made and the machinery to be used by the contractor is being hauled to the scene.

Much of the grading work will be done this winter it is expected as the route of the improved road which will be of concrete is laid out over much land not included in the present highway. The relocation of the highway will give better grades and will also eliminate home of the turns.

Housing For Delegates Must Be Assured For Big State Convention

Preliminary Requests Are Already Made To New Castle Residents

Will You Aid In Taking Care Of Delegates To Big Convention?

Within the next two weeks the president and executive secretary of the Pennsylvania State Educators association will come to New Castle to examine the facilities of the city for entertaining the 1929 convention of the association, declares Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of the public schools of New Castle, who was instrumental in getting the convention for New Castle, in making a plea for rooms for the teachers and school officials who will attend the convention.

"Before going to the P. S. E. A. convention at Reading, I was assured by many prominent citizens of New Castle that this city would be able and willing to entertain the 1929 convention if we should be successful in having our invitation accepted," states Dr. Green.

"As previously announced in the press of this and other cities, we received an overwhelming vote of confidence at the Reading convention. Within the next two weeks the president and executive secretary of the association will come to New Castle and examine our facilities for entertaining this great convention. The Cathedral, the Senior High school and churches (if they are available) will afford unexcelled facilities for the general and sectional meetings. Our one real problem is the providing of rooms for the teachers and school officials who atend the convention.

"We should have definite information at once regarding the number of homes which will open their doors to one or more delegates on December 27 and 28, 1929. All who attend the convention will be able to pay for their accommodations, and of course, the charges must be reasonable. Because our hotel accommodations are inadequate, we should have one or two hundred automobiles available to transport the delegates from the railroad stations to their rooms, and possibly in some cases, from their rooms to the convention hall.

"There is no other convention which has greater possibilities for advertising New Castle. If several thousand teachers and school officials from every part of Pennsylvania will return to their homes pleased with our hospitality, it may readily be seen that the fame of New Castle will eventually reach the homes of 2,000,000 public school children of the commonwealth.

"Please call 374 or write Hotel committee, 116 East street, if you are willing to entertain one or more guests, or if you will donate the use of your automobile for at least one day of the convention," concludes Dr. Green.

Railroads Have Spent Six Billion Dollars To Improve Service

By W. S. COUSINS.
International News Service Financial Editor.

Copyright, 1928 By I. N. S.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—The American railroad systems have spent $6,500,000,000 since 1920 for new and improved equipment and other facilities for the transportation service, as the result of which operating efficiency has been increased and a higher grade of service rendered the shipping public.

This, in a nut-shell, is the outstanding claim of the railroads to the support and co-operation of the American business and idustrial interests, according to R. H. Aishton president of the American Railway association. Aishton told International News Service today that the roads are making less than 5 percent of their property investment and that it was only through rigid economy and increasing efficiency that they were able to approximate that rate.

"The financial situation of the railroads of the country constitutes one of the most important problems facing the carriers if they are to continue to furnish adequate and dependable transportation" Aishton declared, "this is a matter of national importance for the welfare of the shipper of this country, the general public and the railroads depends on the maintenance of adequate transportation."

Aishton calls upon the American public to study railroad problems and to co-operate wherever possible for their mutual benefit. The industrial growth of the country he said, must be predicated upon adequate, efficient and dependable transportation and the railroads' problem must be dealt with on the broadest economic basis.

Gen. W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad company in reviewing the past year's accomplishments, puts in the forefront the co-ordinating of rail, highway and air transportation in the interests of the public service.

The head of the Pennsylvania's vast transportation system predicted that within a year the rail air service across the continent will be inaugurated. Progress is being made in coordinating bus, track and container car service and through these important chanels to extend service over a wider area.

Increasing purchasing power of the country at large; better living standards and the appreciation of the liberal education which travel affords are cited by Patrick E. Crowley, president of the New York Central lines as the principal factors making for increased railroad business.

Detective John Young and Motorcycle Officer Augustine, while on duty in the vicinity of the P. & L. E. station Saturday evening, they noticed Tom Brown, negro, coming up the tracks and started after him.

They finally cornered and arrested him. They found nothing on searching him, but on searching a dry goods box at the corner of a vacant lot which he had passed they found a bottle of moonshine and a revolver hidden there.

They took him to the police station, where a charge of suspicion was made against him. Owing to the fact that the actual possession of the liquor and revolver could not be placed against him, he was assessed a fine of $10 on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Washington County Negro Pays Death Penalty For Murder

FOURTEENTH TO BE EXECUTED IN 1928

ROCKVIEW PENITENTIARY, BELLEFONTE, Pa., Dec. 31.—Wray Wormsley, 23-year-old Washington county negro, today was the 14th and last to pay the death penalty for murder in Pennsylvania during 1928.

The negro walked into the electrocution room silently and with unfaltering step at exactly seven a. m., and six minutes later was declared dead. Wormsley killed Israel Slotsky, Washington business man, on January 19 last in a robbery attempt.

The negro was strapped in the chair and the first contact was applied at 7:01. The lone contact was sufficient to kill, and at 7:06 Dr. A. S. Hickok, prison physician, declared him dead. A local undertaker was on hand to claim the body for relatives.

Wormsley, who had written a number of letters during his last few days, was escorted to the death room by the prison chaplain, Rev. P. M. Osborne. The negro had nothing to say on his last march.

Paul Jaworski, Pennsylvania's arch-bandit slayer, who was to have been electrocuted, won a stay of execution recently when his sanity was questioned. If he loses this fight he will be one of five men to follow Wormsley and pay the extreme penalty within a month.

Three of the men are to die on the same day—January 14. They are Tony Luccitti of Washington county, convicted of killing two Vesta coal and iron police; Charles F. Mellor, 22, and Benjamin Danarowicz, both of Philadelphia.

On January 21, if Jaworski loses his sanity fight, the eyes of the nation will be centered on the grim gray death chamber when the western Pennsylvania bandit is electrocuted. With him Calvin D. James, Bucks county murderer, is scheduled to die.

Wormsley was taken into custody by police last March on an assault charge filed by his wife. Questioned by authorities about the Slotsky slaying, he was alleged to have confessed. He was convicted of first degree murder on May 18. He lost an appeal to the supreme court.

Oldest Mayor In Nation Is Still On Job At Age Of 90

DANA, Ill., Dec . 31.—James McHenry this little village's 90-year-old mayor is the oldest in the country.

Overseer of the civic business of his domain of 251 inhabitants "Mayor Mac" as he is called by his fellow citizens takes no little pride in his job.

He was elected in April 1927 and his term will expire next April. Then he says, he expects to "give the younger boys a chance."

A staunch Democrat all his life, Mayor McHenry—a product of Virginia said that doctors on examining him had found him in perfect physical condition and had predicted that he would see many more years of life.

"They say I will at least live to be 100" he said "and maybe longer. They said I'm the healthiest man in Dana and that I am in better physical shape than many men younger than myself. Why you know I got a brother five years younger than myself that's just gone to pieces. But as for me—I never felt better in my life."

Assemblymen Get More Pay

Pay increase for members of the General Assembly will go into effect when the Legislature convenes Tuesday. The members will get $3,000 for the session instead of $2,500.

In addition a change in the method of paying mileage will prove a financial boon to the lawmakers. They will get 5 cents per mile to and from their homes each week they are in Harrisburg, instead of 30 cents per mile for a single trip each session. As most members spend the weekends at their homes the new payment system will be a big advantage. In addition each member gets $1.50 in stamps.

Why all roads lead to the TYDOL pump

MULTITUDES of motorists have found from the very first filling of Hi-test TYDOL that it gives them instant starting and roaring acceleration . . . without extra cost.

That's why they believe in Hi-test TYDOL.

They've demonstrated by rugged road tests, by traffic stresses and strains, by valiant hill-climbing that Hi-test TYDOL gives them both anti-knock and super power . . . without extra cost.

That's why they believe in Hi-test TYDOL.

They've proven by every imaginable starting and driving test that Hi-test TYDOL rolls together all the superior qualities of the best gasolines into a single unit . . . at no extra cost.

No wonder they believe in Hi-test TYDOL!

The motor tells the story. Mile after mile, day after day. With Hi-test TYDOL in the tank the engine joyously hums its story of flashing liveliness . . . anti-knock, extra power. And without any extra cost.

Because multitudes of motorists have found the proof in the using . . . because their motors have testified by sweeter performance . . . all roads now lead to the TYDOL pump. Tide Water Oil Sales Corporation, 11 Broadway, New York. Phone Whitehall 6000.

Newsboys Ready For Dinner, Show

Hundreds To Be Guests Of Sam And Sol Leff And Mrs. Silverman

EVENT TO BE HELD ON NEW YEAR'S DAY

Lawrence county newsboys who sing "Paper, Mister, Paper?" morning, noon and night, today are going hungry so they can be in the "pink of eating condition" Tuesday morning when the restaurant doors at the Leslie Hotel are thrown wide and open for approximately 700 of the Future Greats of Tomorrow to wage an attack on King Food.

And when the boys who are forced by adverse circumstances to "peddle papers" for a living place their feet beneath the table they'll receive the same attention and meals that are served to the biggest salaried traveling salesmen or the most brilliant attorney, banker or industrial leader, plenty of whom dine at that hotel.

Among the crowd of newsies will be "Fatty" Marella, whom we know as "Spaghetti." "Fatty" has asked permission to bring his dog with him. "Fatty" you know is a pal to his dog and the dog is a pal to Fatty." Wherever you see one you'll see the other. He is just one of the boys, some who are named, Joe, Mike, Abe, George Zeke, Tough—in fact all kind of names.

The boys are not from one section but all parts of the city and county.

Mostly Bread Winners

Most of the boys who sell the newspapers or deliver them are "bread winners." In many homes they provide the money with which the necessities of life keep sisters or brothers in classrooms; in other homes they are the sole support of mothers. In fact they are the "men" of families.

Take that youngster at Mill and Washington street. How many readers know him. Have you ever heard him grumble? Have you seen a wry countenance? You have not. And "Fatty"? Have you ever heard him sing "Ramona", or "There's a Rainbow Round My Shoulders"? That kid is singing morn, noon and night—yes at 10 p. m. despite the rain, sleet or snow.

And there is Johnny. He's from the West Side. He has Joey as a helper. Joey is his brother. Take that redheaded kid who is always battling. Yes, hot temptered but honest. Every penny goes to his mother. And again, have you heard a little chap creep up behind you and imitate an auto horn or the siren of the big fire truck?

He does it yes, but for fun and the laugh he utters when you leap fills his heart with gladness and you go meandering on your way happier when you see him smile. These are only a few of the boys who will mingle at 9 a. m. until 11 a. m. with those who come to say "Hello" and also see the "bang up" show at 1 p. m. at the Carnegie auditorium.

They're being "treated" Tuesday by Sam Leff, Sol Leff and Mrs. Alex Silverman, the latter, the widow of Alex Silverman. The three operate the Leslie and other hotels.

The program follows:

Bernie Mack's Jazz band.

Nina Strong, toe dance.

Griffith & Griffith, piano song and drum.

Anna Hagen Buckley, vocalist.

One minute silence in memoriam of the late Alex Silverman.

Brown and his pals, dance and monologue.

Tom Cunningham, vocalist.

Doris King, star of "Shufflin' Along."

Tommy Blake in jazz numbers.

Herbie Jina and his Chinese Fiddle.

Bill Keagle, pictures in chalk.

The Immigration Four, Chill, Colo, Ross and Palus.

The Lelences, acrobatics.

Saldo and Miss Virginia, mystery act.

Mrs. Sara Rinehart, piano accompanist.

BOASTS OF ICY SWIMS AND DIES SHOWING GROUP

Collegian Chills And Drowns In Dispelling Friends' Skepticism

CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—Joseph Drew, 26, of Devils Lake, N. D., a Northwestern University medical student, was drowned Sunday when he fulfilled a boast to take a swim in the icy Lake Michigan.

Drew attended a party at a North Side home. About midnight conversation turned to swimming. Drew declared he frequently went swimming in winter, and to dispel skepticism decided to go in immediately.

He went to the beach nearby and entered the water while members of the party looked on.

Half an hour later Arthur Cook saw him near the shore and appealed to him to come in. Drew disappeared and Cook thought he did so intentionally.

To Have Special New Year Services At St. Joseph's Church

Memorial Service, High And Low Mass To Feature Program This Evening And Tomorrow

This evening, New Year's Eve, there will be a double service at 7:45 in St. Joseph's church, South Jefferson street. Memorial services for those who departed this life during the past year, short sermon on death and the recitation of "The Profundis," the 129th Psalm, a prayer of Thanksgiving, a hymn of praise and benediction will feature the second part of the evening's service.

On New Year's Day there will be two masses, a low mass with short address at 8:30 a. m., and a high mass at 11 o'clock. At the high mass, the principal service of the holy day, the Christmas musical program will be repeated. The pastor, Rev. A. J. Weisenberger, will deliver a special New Year's message and will take for his text, "My Days Are At An End And They Have Rolled Away From Me Like The Shepherd's Tent," Isaias 38, 12. The Litany and the Holy Name of Jesus and benediction will conclude the services.

The parochial school will resume classes Wednesday, January 3, at 9 o'clock.

Says He'll Make Dry State Drier

Kansas Governor-Elect May Have Political Ambitions Behind His Plans

TOPEKA, Kan., Dec. 31.—Promise of Governor-elect Clyde M. Reed to make Kansas a dry state in reality as well as in reputation, has centered more attention on the political phase of prohibition in Kansas than any development since prohibition.

Interest in Reed's experiment is based not only on its practical outcome from a "drinking standpoint", but on the manner in which his campaign, if effective, may elevate him in national politics.

Reed, a newspaperman, publisher of the Parsons Sun, has threatened drastic measures to realize in Kansas the prohibition ambitions nurtured by the late Carrie Nation.

Political reckoners are asking these questions:

In four or eight years from now, what would be the chances of a midwestern public man to enter a campaign for the Presidency on an issue which would make it as much of a crime to buy a drink as it is now to sell such a drink?

How far would he get if he had a gubernatorial record showing he really had dried up a pioneer prohibition state?

Whatever Reed's ambitions may be, he has asserted that he proposes to do everything in his power to enforce the prohibitory laws in Kansas. He has said that he will stop liquor entertainments at conventions in all Kansas towns.

His announcements have aroused wide interest and response. His efforts are anticipated as providing one of the most absorbing political and social developments that Kansas, which delights in such things, has witnessed in recent years.

Petition To Merge Two Hospitals Is Presented To Court

Shenango Valley And Jameson Memorial To Merge Under Name Of Jameson Memorial Hospital

Petitions for the merging of the Shenango Valley hospital and the Jameson Memorial hospital under the name of the Jameson Memorial hospital were presented to court this morning by Attorney Norman Martin. The petition set forth that the Shenago Valley hospital was incorporated on January 19, 1891 and the Jameson Memorial hospital on November 22, 1926.

By agreement of the directors of the two institutions, set forth in the petition it was agreed to merge the two institutions since they were both organized for the same purpose. Judge Hildebrand directed that the intention be advertised according to law. Final decree will then be made on January 28.

Bucks Teacher Loses Compensation Award

Penna. Board Reverses Referee's Decision In Case Of Young Bristol Woman

HARRISBURG, Dec. 31. — The Workmen's Compensation Board, in an order made public, reversed a referee's award of compensation to Miss Elizabeth S. Weeks, of Bristol, employed in the Bristol township school district, Bucks county. An appeal had been taken by the school board. Miss Weeks, while on her way to school, slipped and fractured her ankle. At the time of the accident she was carrying school reports and materials used in her work.

"To hold that a person carrying papers or books used in the routine of her business going to work or coming home is thereby in the course of employment would place under that category practically every teacher, minister, mechanic or every employed person in industry," the board held, in sustaining the appeal.

Teachers Making Applications Today

Any Vacancies Which Occur In School System Can Be Adequately Filled

Applications are being received today at the office of Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of New Castle's schools for teaching positions for the school year 1929-30.

Many prospective teachers are making their applications, because of the opportunities offered in New Castle, and by the list of applications, school officials should not have any trouble in filling adequately any vacancies which may occur.

Reductions in Long Distance Rates
Effective February 1, 1929

TELEPHONE RATES on Long Distance calls will be reduced again — the third reduction made by the Bell System in little more than two years.

Station-to-Station Day Rates on calls to points 130 to 1,500 miles away will be reduced by amounts varying from five cents to a quarter, and rates for Person-to-Person calls will be lowered in equal or greater amounts.

This reduction in rates—which will mean an annual saving to the American public of more than $5,000,000—is in keeping with the fundamental policy of the Bell System—to furnish the best possible telephone service at the lowest cost to the user.

Further announcements giving detailed information will appear shortly.

New Sheet Glass Machines Will Be Installed Shortly

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 31.—Bids on their plans for the erection of a building at the factory at Arnold, Pa., wherein 13 Fourcault process sheet glass drawing machines would be installed, were asked today by the American Window Glass Company. The machines would be placed on one of the large furnaces on which there had been previously installed 12 cylinder process machines.

A reasonable bid would warrant immediate construction, it was pointed out, and the installation would be the largest of its kind in the world. The machines, with a single exception, will be the largest ever used on this process.

Claim On Riches Dropped By Indian

HOWARD, Kan., Dec. 31.—A lawsuit in which Leona Mae Byers, hotelkeeper of Beaumont, Kan., alleges she was the common law wife of J. H. (Joe) Porter, millionaire landowner, and asked equal division of his property was closed today without being brought to trial.

The woman, who is part Cherokee Indian, had estimated in her petition Porter's property was worth $20,000,000. Attorneys in the case would not deny a property settlement had been made. Counsel for Mrs. Byers moved for dismissal of the case, and agreed to pay the costs.

The suit also asked legal dissolution of the alleged common law marriage, which was declared to have existed thirteen years. Mrs. Byers said she had first worked for Porter as his bookkeeper at his ranch, Hell, near Beaumont, later living with him as his wife, doing menial labor and helping to accumulate his fortune. Meanwhile, Porter's legal wife, who was living in Wichita, committed suicide.

In a journal entry of the Court's judgment dismissing the suit at the cost of the plaintiff, Judge A. T. Ayres of the Elk County District Court declared the relationship of common law husband and wife never existed between the two principals in the action, and no one had any legal claim to a division of Porter's property.

Schools To Remain Closed Until January 7 In Ellwood

Decision Reached At Recent Meeting Of School Officials Of Ellwood City

Many Cases Of Influenza Still Reported Among School Children

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 31—At a recent meeting of the officials of the local schools, it was decided that in view of continued illness among the school children, the local schools would not resume activities until Monday morning, January 7.

Original plans were to open the schools tomorrow, but on the request of the Board of Health, it was decided to postpone the opening.

Although the prevalence of influenza has not been so marked in the town, the majority of cases seem to be among the school children, it is reported.

The schools closed a week before schedule for the Christmas holidays on account of illness, and by the time the institutions open, the vacation will have been stretched to three weeks.

John Yoho Services This Afternoon

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 31.—Services for John Yoho of Kookstown, who passed away Saturday at his home after a brief illness, took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church with the pastor of the Hookstown church officiating, assisted by Rev. Paul Elliott.

Many friends paid final tribute to the deceased. Mr. Yoho is survived by three brothers, E. J. Yoho, Will Yoho and Eli Yoho and a sister, Mrs. Ella Hennon of the New Castle road. Interment took place in the Slippery Rock cemetery.

Funeral Services For Elmer Brown

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 31.—Funeral services for Elmer Brown, aged 67, who dropped dead Saturday, took place this morning at 10 o'clock from the United Presbyterian church at Wurtemburg.

Although death came suddenly to Mr. Brown he had been ailing for some time. He is survived by his wife, two daughters and two sons. Many friends mourned his passing at the services this morning. Interment took place in the Wurtemburg cemetery.

Alfred Duncan Dies From Influenza

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 31.—Alfred Duncan, aged 63, passed away Saturday evening at his home in Perry Township, near Portersville, as a result of an attack of influenza. He had been ill but a short time.

The deceased is survived by his wife and several children. Funeral services take place Tuesday afternoon from the Presbyterian church of Portersville, with interment in the Portersville cemetery.

Funeral Services For Mary Cole Here

Many Pay Final Respects To Memory Of Former Resident Of Ellwood City

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 31.—Funeral services for the late Mary Chill Cole wife of Bishop Cole of Pittsburgh, who passed away Friday evening at her home, as a result of an attack of pneumonia, were conducted this afternoon from the Trinity Lutheran church with Rev. L. J. Baker officating.

Mrs. Cole is a former resident, and will be remembered as Miss Mary Chill, being employed as secretary to the late A. F. N. Thomas at the Mathews Conveyer company. Mrs. Cole died at the age of 39, and leaves three small children, besides her husband Bishop Cole.

Many friends paid final respects to her memory, and masses of lovely floral offerings bore mute testimony to her popularity. She is also survived by a brother Henry Chill of New Bedford and Clarence Chill of Bridgeport, Conn., also a sister Mrs. Emma Enders of Rochester. Burial was made in the Slippery Rock cemetery.

Mrs. Ganze Dies At Home Today

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 31. — Mrs. Marguerite Ganze, aged 42, passed away at the home of her mother, Mrs. Jennie McDonald of Crescent avenue this morning at 1 o'clock.

She had been suffering from a lingering illness of the heart for about two years. She is survived by her husband, her mother Mrs. McDonald, and two brothers, John and Tom McDonald. Funeral arrangements are incomplete as yet.

Funeral services will take place Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 from the McDonald home at 634 Crescent avenue. Rev. Dr. Charles Bell will officiate and the interment takes place in the Locust Grove cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Graham Dies At Home Today

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 31.—Mrs. Mary E. Graham, aged 79, passed away at 4:30 this morning at her home in Wurtemburg. She had been ill a short time. Her husband preceeded her in death about twenty years ago. Mrs. Graham is survived by five sons.

Funeral services will take place Wednesday morning at 10:00 from the Wurtemburg United Presbyterian church, and interment will be made in the Wurtemburg cemetery.

FUNERAL SERVICES

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Dec. 31. — Funeral services for Mrs. Hannah Getz, well known and highly respected resident of Wurtemburg, whose death occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Roy Graham following an illness were held at the Wurtemburg U. P. church, Saturday afternoon. The service was conducted by the pastor Rev. J. Caughey. Burial was made in the Wurtemburg cemetery.

Film Star Sings

Hope Hampton, former movie star, looks especially contented in this photo because she has achieved her life long ambition, an operatic debut in Philadelphia, Pa. She is shown amid the floral tributes she received at her debut.

Plans Completed For New Years Eve Pirate Dance

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 31.—All is in readiness for the big social event of the Ellwood Country club calendar for the coming year, and closing the social activities of 1928 with a bang, the Pirate Ball which takes place this evening in the lounge of the club.

Members of the committee have been busy transforming the club into suitable quarters for the pirates to entertain their guests, and many "voyagers" are expected from the surrounding towns for the event this evening.

Members of the committee in charge of the affair are: Chairman B. J. Bell, assisted by Messrs. Ray Aylesworth, Tom Daley, Bon Ellis, Stevenson Findlater, Walter Harris, Carl Hayes, Ray Horton, Theodore Markwort, Frank Moltrup, William Seaton, W. R. Johnston and Bruce Hunter.

NOCERA SERVICES

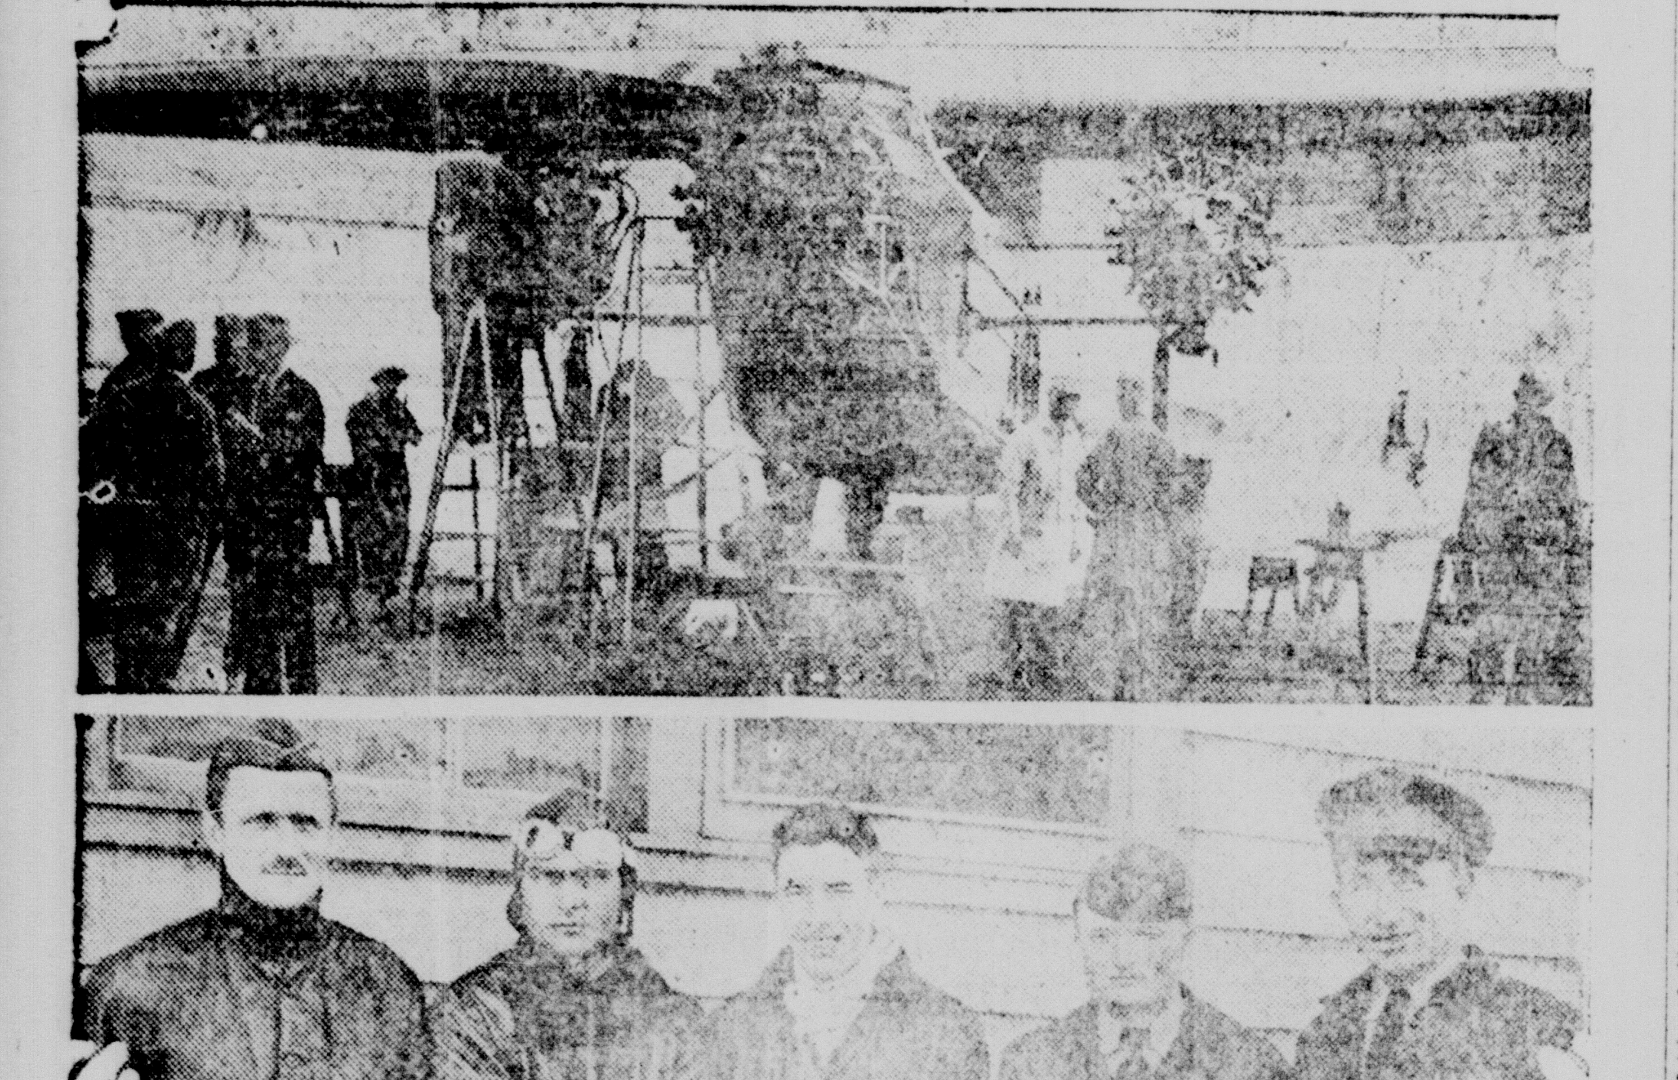
ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Dec. 31. — Funeral services for John Nocera, ten year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Nocera, whose death occurred at his home in Division avenue, following a long illness, were held at the Italian Catholic church on Saturday morning with Rev. S. Marino officiating. Burial was made in Locust Grove cemetery.

CLASS MEETING

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Dec. 31. — Miss Christina Dolter was hostess to the members of the Golden Star class of the Wurtemburg U. P. church at her home Friday evening.

New Year's gifts were exchanged. Later fine refreshments were served by the hostess. Owing to illness, Miss Hanna White, the teacher was unable to be present.

To Fly Until Engine Conks Out



Back and forth, back and forth, monotonously, over measured course between Los Angeles and San Diego, Cal., the "Question Mark," the Army's wonder plane, will fly in what is perhaps the sternest test ever devised for heavier-than-air craft. Refueling will be done in the air, the plane's pilots "spelling" each other for meals and cat-naps. Below, l. to r., Major Carl Spatz, in charge of the Question Mark; Captain Ira Baker, co-pilot; Lieut. E. R. Quesada, co-pilot, and Lieuts. I. A. Woodrey and A. C. Strickland, who will fly the refueling planes.

Lutherans Present Impressive Cantata

Elaborate Musical Story Of The Christ Child Presented By Choir Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 31.—"The Christ Child" a Christmas cantata by C. B. Hawley was presented by the vested choir of 32 voices of the Trinity Lutheran church Sunday evening to a crowded auditorium.

The cantata was presented in two parts, with an elaborate musical script telling of the birth of Christ its attendant ceremonies and heavenly triumphs accompanying the birth.

Soloists were: Mrs. Thelma Schenck, Mrs. Adele Eggers Furniss, Robert Taylor, Alfred Hulbert, Miss Mary Blocher. Members of the chorus were as follows: Sopranos: Mesdames C. W. Carbeau, Harry Felton, Pearl Shaner, N. R. VanGorder, Misses Esther Rochards, Urilda Bingle, Dorothy Shander, Gladys Boots, and Lavina VanGorder; Tenors:—C. W. Carbeau, Lee Wallis, Clarence Hollerman, Andrew Zikali. Altos:—Mesdames C. J. Watterson, A. Kleindenst, Ernest Reinheimer, Harold Meyers, Miss Ellen Dahl and Catherine Reiner; Basses:—C. J. Rosser, B. J. Bell, Henry Keistling, Edward Burniss, H. R. Goehring and William Blocher. Many of the singers formerly announced were prevented from participating in the final performance on account of illness. Assisting greatly in the beauty of the rendition was Mrs. George Atkins, organist.

Pair Play Checkers For Ten Hours; Draw

Ten hours, 76 games of checkers, no eats, no winner and still in a good humor.

That's the whole thing in a nut shell and its all about a checker fest which was carried out by A. E. Kerr and Morris Rosenbloom of this city down in the Y. M. C. A. lobby on Saturday afternoon.

The two gentlemen, veterans in the checker realm, started playing Saturday shortly before 1 o'clock in the afternoon. The games, 76 of them ended in a draw at 11 o'clock Saturday evening. There had not been a stop, no time out, no fistcuffing arguments and the men had not stopped for meals.

It was a real orgy of checkerism. Some one noticed the two men who seemed to have been playing for quite some time. Later it was noticed that they were still at it. After about five hours of it, every one began to wonder and the mystery was investigated.

No, it was no contest, no bet, just a friendly little checker dual between friends and no prizes for high scorer. It is stated that both of the men are good players in addition to their particular zest for the sport.

When the pair decided to quit at 11 o'clock and get a bite to eat it was found that each had won 38 games in the melee.

Ten hours of continuous checker playing is thought to be the record here. Perhaps this will start a marathon of the back porch monte carlo game between the checker fiends of the city.

Opinion Handed Down In Damage Case Favors City

Judgment For Defendant Notwithstanding Verdict Given In A. E. Fair Case

In an opinion handed down by Judge Hildebrand today in the case of Albert and Margaret Fair against the city of New Castle, motion for a new trial by defendant is refused, but motion for judgement notwithstanding the verdict is granted the defendant. It is directed that judgement be entered in favor of the defendant and against the plaintiff.

The case is one growing out of an automobile accident on West Washington street in which Mrs. Fair was injured. The street was being repaved at the time by M. J. Scanlon. The accident happened near the west end of the West Washington street bridge. It was claimed by the plaintiff that owing to a rut, his car was diverted from its course and struck an iron post.

After the verdict has been rendered in favor of the plaintiff the city asked for a new trial on the grounds that the city had not been negligent, that the work had been in charge of the contractor, and that the plaintiff could see that the street was under repair and was guilty of contributory negligence in not using greater caution. The decision means that the city winds up the case.

New Trial Granted In Case Of Woman

In the case of the commonwealth against Margaret Pastore, alias Margaret Iasiello, Dorothy Wilson and Adrene Hannon, charged with keeping a disorderly house, Judge Chambers handed down a decision this morning in which a new trial was granted. The defendants were convicted at a recent term of court. Application for a new trial was made in behalf of the defendant owing to remarks made by the assistant district attorney in his argument of the case to the jury. The case was one in which a hard fight was made by both sides.

P. R. R. Bowlers Will Resume

After resting one week because of Christmas holiday and sickness, bowlers of the P. R. R. bowling league here will resume their playing in Mahoningtown, on Tuesday night.

Members of the trainmen's aggregation will oppose the car department while the car shop men will contest the telepragh operators. The match in both cases promises to be good.

Smoking Brakes Summon Firemen

Tight brakes was the reason that No. 2 fire department answered an alarm from box 29 Saturday afternoon at 5:40, which called them to the intersection of Highland avenue and Elizabeth street, where they found a woman driving a car with the brake bands smoking.

A fireman told the woman to release her brakes, and she drove off. The department did not ascertain the woman's name or get her license number.

New Phone Rates Give Reduction

Bell Company Announces Reduction To Be Made In Some Rates

Further reductions in telephone rates to points between 130 and approximately 1500 miles distant will be instituted by the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania February 1, it is announced by W. R. Bingham, District Manager for the Company.

Institution of the new rate schedule for out of town calls will mark the third time within little more than two years that the Bell System will have curtailed the cost of this form of service. The impending reductions will mean an aggregate saving of upwards of $400,000 to telephone users in Pennsylvania during 1929, while throughout the nation-wide Bell System the public will be saved more than $5,000,000 during the year.

To the telephone user the reductions will mean a cut of from 5 to 25 cents on day toll and long distance station-to-station calls within the distances designated. A proportionate reduction is to be made for person-to-person calls, while evening and night rates will remain approximately at their present level. In addition, appointment and messenger calls are to be provided after February 1 at regular person-to-person rates.

The Bell Company also will put into effect February 1 a new schedule affecting rural subscribers throughout the State. Certain mileage and construction charges are to be eleminated and other curtailments in the cost of telephone service in the rural districts are to be made, Mr. Bingham explained.

Court Reverses Decision Made In Emery Case

Remits Case Of Lyle Emery To Workmens' Compensation Board For Further Hearing

In an opinion handed down by Judge Chambers this morning action of the Workmens Compensation board, in the case of Mrs. M. Bell Emery against the City of New Castle, in awarding compensation for the death of Lyle Emery, is reversed and the record is remitted to the Compensation board for further hearing.

The case is one in which the late Lyle Emery was employed by the City of New Castle as an inspector of paving being done on Lathrop street. He had gone home to lunch and started back to work. He had sat down for a few minutes in front of the Weingartner building on East Washington street, got up, and started to go across the street when he was struck by a car driven by Warren Farrow, receiving injuries from which he died.

Mrs. Emery asked for compensation under the Workmen's Compensation act, claiming that Emery had been injured while in the course of his regular employment for the city. The Workmen's Compensation Referee found in favor of the claim. The city appealed from the decision on the grounds that Emery was not actually on the job and was not killed in the course of his regular employment as as contemplated by the compensation act. It was claimed that he was not even on the street where his employment was located. This view, taken by the defendant, is sustained by the court in his decision reversing the finding and ordering a re-hearing.

Hanna Is Placed On Reserve List

Owing to failing health Carl Hanna, city fireman today was granted permission to be place on the reserve eligible list of firemen.

He has been ill for a year. As soon as Mr. Hanna's health is better he will be re-appointed to his position if a vacancy exists. The move was granted when council met formally at city hall.

Goodman Scores Quick Knockout

Joey Goodman, boxer who is prominent here, scored a sensational victory, Saturday night when he knocked out Cincinnati's star junior lightweight, Jimmy Brown, in the third round. The bout was staged before 3,500 fans in the Armory at Cincinnati. Goodman boxed U. S. Carpentier here a week ago.

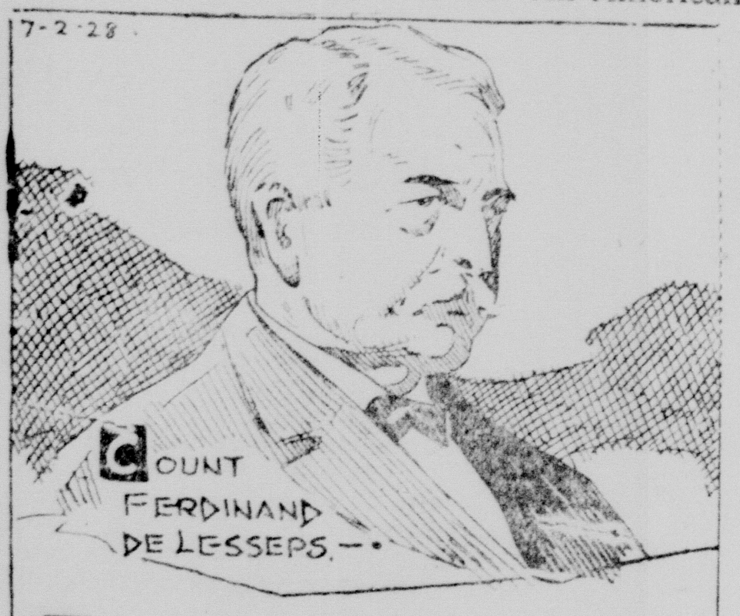
The Story Of The Panama Canal—Part 7
The Demand For An American Canal



WHEN A FRENCH COMPANY HEADED BY DE LESSEPS, FAMOUS ENGINEER AND BUILDER OF THE SUEZ CANAL, UNDERTOOK TO BUILD A CANAL ACROSS THE ISTHMUS OF PANAMA, AMERICANS BEGAN TO FEAR THAT FRANCE MIGHT GAIN A "SPHERE OF INFLUENCE" IN CENTRAL AMERICA.

WHEN DE LESSEPS CAME TO THIS COUNTRY IN 1[illegible] TO ATTEMPT TO INTEREST FINANCIERS IN HIS PROJECT, HE ASSURED THE PUBLIC THAT HIS CANAL WAS TO BE CONTROLLED BY THE STOCKHOLDERS AND NOT BY ANY NATION. BUT WHAT AMERICANS WANTED WAS AN AMERICAN-OWNED CANAL.

IN THE SAME YEAR, PRESIDENT HAYES IN A MESSAGE TO CONGRESS RECOMMENDED AN AMERICAN ISTHMIAN CANAL. "SUCH A WORK," HE SAID, "WOULD CHANGE OUR GEOGRAPHICAL CONDITIONS AND BECOME VIRTUALLY A PART OF OUR COAST LINE."

BUT THE CLAYTON-BULWER TREATY WITH ENGLAND BARRED THE WAY TO AN INDEPENDENT AMERICAN CANAL IN CENTRAL AMERICA. DURING CARFIELD'S ADMINISTRATION, SECRETARY OF STATE BLAINE PROPOSED TO ENGLAND THAT THIS TREATY BE CHANGED, BUT MET WITH REFUSAL.

Firpo And Dillon Clash Tuesday Afternoon

Firpo Anxious To Reverse Decision

Rio, "Carp", Elmo, Nick And Two Farrow Boys On Holiday Card

SEEK SUBSTITUTE FOR JOE MIDWAY

By ED. FRITZ

Can Henry Firpo reverse the decision he lost Christmas afternoon, when he battles Jack Dillon at Jolly Bowl Tuesday afternoon in a return 10-round bout? This question has perturbed fandom for a week, and not until the middleweights have definitely settled the disputed supremacy will fandom have arrived at an answer.

Dillon's aggressiveness, strength, stamina and cross-arm defense combined proved too much for Firpo. In the third round it appeared as though Firpo had Dillon on the toboggan, but he, himself, fell victim to a healthy swat that dissipated his edge, and it was not until the closing rounds did Firpo show anything he displayed in former fights.

Dillon came here practically an unknown to a large majority of fans, but when the first round had been fought the man-pack, which has been on Firpo's trail for almost a year, were shouting for Dillon to win. Firpo's left lacked steam and his right was fired seldom. Firpo's legs appeared weak and at times brain and brawn disagreed.

Found Himself

Toward the last part of the fight Firpo apparently found himself, and in the closing session he gave Dillon a good leathering. This may have been due to Dillon's desire to play safe and win the decision without running the chance of being knocked out, or else Firpo had fought himself back into form.

There is no question but that Firpo was ill two days before the bout. A local physician attended and prescribed for him. While Henry Firpo reported that he felt fine as he entered the bowl, his showing disagreed with his words, but there are fans who believe that Jack can lick him any day in the year.

Tomorrow the query of supremacy will be settled definitely before one of the largest crowds of the indoor season. Firpo has been training faithfully with no other a partner than Jimmy Dunn. Jimmy can still box like a flash and he knows how to hit. Dollars to doughnuts Firpo will be a much improved battler when the bell rings at three o'clock.

Dillon has been strutting high and handsome at the bowl gymnasium. He has used Joe Dinger, Elmo the Mighty and other local fighters as sparring partners. Daily he has scurried over the highways doing his "daily five miles". His eye is clear, skin pink and he says he is ready for the best fight he has ever participated in.

Training Hard

Dillon and his manager, Simon John, have been staying at the Leslie Hotel. Late tonight or early Tuesday morning Firpo, accompanied by Jimmy Dunn, will arrive and at 10:30 a. m. they will journey to the bowl, where they will weigh in under the alert eye of a deputy of the boxing commission. The stipulated weight is 155 pounds.

After weighing in they will return, partake of a nourishing meal, take a walk while the food digests, then "climb" into bed to rest until two p. m., when they will journey to the bowl, ready to wind up the New Year afternoon's fighting. And if the bout is as good as Christmas day's clash it certainly will please fandom.

It is reported that Firpo will try desperately for a left hook to the stomach or a straight right to the jaw. He made Young Saylor look askance with a left to the solar plexus and dropped almost all his foes with a right to the jaw. He depended on a right to the heart in the first battle here.

Dillon's manager said today that Jack would fight on a more open style, as he has figured it out that Firpo cannot punch as hard as reported. Dillon, according to Simon, didn't feel groggy from any of Firpo's blows, and if the two stand up and slug Dillon will abandon his cross-arm barrier to trade punches.

Good Semi-Final

The semi-final will bring together two favorite junior lightweights, namely, Frankie Rio, who has rung up a long list of victories, and U. S. Carpentier, who makes a good showing every time he clashes. Carpentier has fought Johnny Datto, Frankie Rio and Joey Goodman here.

Although Carpentier may not know it, there is no question but that judges have taken points from him on account of his holding gloves. Judge Sussman of Pittsburgh, who recently officiated here, said he makes a practice of this whenever a fighter holds as it retards fighting and under the rules is a foul.

Rio is not as good a puncher as Goodman. He possesses a good left hook. Carpentier is not a strong puncher, but few have better left hands, and at close quarters he works a right uppercut rapidly to the chin. The junior lightweights are fast on their feet and a good bout is in prospect when they answer the bell.

Four Wild Swingers

Joe Midway is off the card, as influenza has chased Joe to bed, and Promoter Jolly will have a worthy opponent, he says, to meet Nick Martin of Cleveland. Influenza has been causing havoc among fighters and Midway executed a sensible move when he reported himself ill rather than to continue on the card.

Elmo the Mighty, who swings 'em from the floor in all directions, will again take on Tom Farrow. Nick Polis will battle Warren Farrow. With these two four-round bouts fans should see enough punch for a week. All of them are rough and ready, wild swingers who know nothing else but.

Eastern Gridders Display Supremacy In Coast Contest

Harpster, Fox And Getto Of Pittsburgh Schools, Show Brilliancy

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 31—Having conclusively demonstrated that great football players romp on the gridirons of the East and Middle-West, the team handed the western stars a 20 to 0 defeat here Saturday today were scheduled to arrive at Los Angeles where they will witness the game between Georgia Tech and California at Pasadena tomorrow.

Local fans are still marvelling today at the compact outfit Coaches Andy Kerr and Dick Hanley threw at the western aggregation. Although the players were from a dozen different colleges they played as a unit, whereas the westerners played a ragged and desultory brand of football.

Harpster Brilliant

Perhaps it was the supberb generalship of Howard Harpster of Carnegie Tech that was responsible for the general cohesiveness of the Easterner's play. With but a few plays to draw from. Harpster drew them out of the hat like a magician and crossed and double crossed the western tearm time after time.

The Easterners, in fact, excelled their press notices, particularly Walter Holmer of Northwestern, whose slow motion passes were something to watch.

Al Weston of Boston college and Mike Getto and Alex Fox of Pittsburgh also had much to do with the debacle. Weston, on one occasion, fought his way through three interferers, tackled the man with the ball and then recovered it after it was fumbled.

Five Race Horses Burned To Death

Belmont Park Race Course Fire Will Be $50,000 Damage, Report

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Fire at the beautiful Belmont Park race course which destroyed five horses and caused the death of an aged watchman from heart failure, was brought under control early today. The horses were valued at $20,000 and property damage was $30,000.

The horses burned were Martenax, an imported English six-year-old owned by trainer Tom McCreary, and four yearlings owned by Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., member of the American International polo team.

Stable boys saved other horses. During the excitement Matt O'Connor, aged watchman, dropped dead. McCreary's stable was destroyed.

Lincolns Will Play Zelienople

The Lincolns of the City League will play the Zelienople Independents at the Y. M. C. A. floor on Wednesday night, it was announced by Henry MacNichols today.

The Castle Six girls team will meet the Strauss-Hershberg girls team of Youngstown in the preliminary at 3 o'clock. Both games are feature attractions.

Grove City High Quintet To Play Here On Tuesday

New Castle High Floor Team To Oppose Grove City Here Tomorrow Night

GAME IS CALLED FOR 8 O'CLOCK

By "BUGS" WALTHER

NEW YEAR'S night at the Senior High gymnasium the New Castle high school basketball team prances forth on the glazed surface of the newly revamped floor, to meet Grove City high quintet, in a basketball contest. The game will start at eight o'clock.

The New Castle high tossers opened their home season last week by toppling the fast Alumni team 26 to 19. Coach Bridenbaugh feels confident that his Red and Black artists can take the measure of the Mercer countians.

Coach Joe Hartman will bring a fast aggregation of passers to this city. Grove City high is stronger in basketball than in football, and Hartman is ranked as a very good mentor. Each year Grove City high basketball team gives New Castle plenty in the way of good solid competition. This year will be no exception.

Locals Promising.

The locals in the Alumni game gave promise of developing into a smooth working combination and with more experience are going to cut quite a figure in scholastic basketball circles.

Coach Bridenbaugh has instilled a fighting spirit into the team, and the boys last week showed a snappy brand of basketball. The passing and defensive work of the locals is good this year, the offense is still rather weak, but it is expected that this will be erased as the season grows older.

The New Castle high team will lineup tomorrow night, the same way they did for the Alumni game, with Cuba and Johnson at the forwards, Alexander at center, and Ostrosky and Sillman at the guards. In reserve Bridenbaugh will have Vago, Weir, McIntosh, Hannon, McAuley and Fernati. New Castle high is fortunate this season in having a strong reserve squad.

Coach Hartman will bring the following squad to New Castle:—Bohlander, Briggs, Sproull, Jimmy Dunn, Kenmoir, Sandrock, McIntyre, Bashline, Glessner and Wayne Bashline. Grove City has the same squad that represented the school last year, and they are an improved team, as shown by their work in defeating Chicora, and in playing Butler high.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner is making arrangements to handle an overflow crowd tomorrow night.

Andy Kerr Will Likely Be Kept As W. & J. Coach

Washington And Jefferson Reported Ready To Sign Andy Kerr To New Contract

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., Dec. 31. — While nothing definite was forthcoming from officials at Washington and Jefferson College today concerning the status of Andy Kerr, director of athletics, it was generally felt that the football mentor, whose contract is in its last year, will be retained for another period.

It was gathered, however, that Kerr probably has made his last trip to San Francisco as co-operative coach of the all-star eastern football teams which plays a select western aggregation in a benefit game each year.

Reason for abandoning the annual trip west it was learned, is the fact that Kerr is compelled to leave the coaching of the varsity basketball team to other hands at a time when a head coach is essential

INK DROPS FROM JOLLY BOWL

Jack Bryan, the 'Tad' of New Castle, in his cartoon today furnishes material for a story. In ye olden days pictures rather than words, told the story and today there is a tendency to revert to this way of telling the story.

Bryan, in drawing the cartoon shows Firpo "the way", something Firpo did not do on Christmas afternoon when he lost to Dillon. Of course Bryan has seen Firpo at his best and therefore is conversant with Firpo "when right", "in pink" or in good physical form.

He has Firpo delivering a left jab for the face (which means eyes, nose, mouth, chin). Bryan depicts "zip" in the jab and if you will note the upraised feet or Firpo "on his toes" it conveys there is leverge, "pep", or "steam" in the jab.

The purpose of the jab is to send an opponent off balance, letting an opening for a "follow up", a straight right to the chin. Note Dillon's upraised glove, parrying the blow. It has failed to budge Dillon who has braced himself for the punch.

Firpo is caricatured as ready to shoot his right. He didn't do it often Christmas. From the way Jack has drawn the position of Dillon which is "exactly as is" Firpo has a chance to deliver (or shoot) a right across above Dillon's left, carried low.

Of course the blow would land high and not on the chin point (or button). The punch, however if not warded off by Dillon raising his left would send Dillon reeling to the right leaving Firpo an opening for a right to the kidney

STYLE IS BAFFLING—

Dillon has been drawn "as is", almost perfect to his style which baffled Henry. As he holds right across his chin and left across his stomach for an attack Dillon waded in until he got close to Firpo then he punched (whaled) to the stomach.

At in fighting the boxers try to work their arms inside the other fellow's arms. The one who gets in first makes the other "tie him up" by holding an antagonist's arms with his arms on gloved hands. Holding is not allowed under the rules.

Dillon's best style, due to his strength, stamina and rugged physique is to "walk in" or an aggressive style. Firpo is best at long range. He believes a moving target is hard to hit as you've found in a shootin' gallery.

Firpo likes to move around and "peck away" as a chicken does at corn, in other words pound down resistance gradually until resistance is so weak it cannot withstand a heavy jaw then he bides his time and shoots the most powerful blow he has to the chin.

Dillon proved too "hard a nut" or strong, for Firpo Christmas. Firpo lost to Hybert then came back and amazed fans by outboxing and outfighting Hybert and he won in a walk. Will he do it Tuesday? Or will Dillon make his victory larger with a knockout?

Bryan can draw the picture but none of us will be able to answer this until the fight has been fought and according to what the managers, fighters and their supporters say it will be a fight every second.

HARD LUCK ROCCO

Joe Cumo's good big boy, Emmett Rocco, whom we termed the Tarzan of the Connoquesnessing which drew the attention of Tom McArdle of Madison Square Garden, not so long ago is a fighter with lots of tough breaks.

He knocked out a couple of "third raters", then put himself on the sport pages of the country by flattening Romero Rojas in five rounds and later put Jack McAuliffe on the receiving end.

Rocco followed this up by knocking out Harold Scarney whom the "ring sages" said was coming fast.

BEAT JOE SEKYRA

He knocked out some "not so goods" but sent Romero Rojas to sleep in five rounds which brought him considerable notoriety in ring circles. He beat Jack McAuliffe at Youngstown and then flattened Harold Scarney.

Battling Levinsky took a lacing here and the remarkable angle of that fight is that Rocco actually outjabbed Levinsky, something few have done. He hurt his hand and when he fought Al Friedman was away off form but he was given the decision.

He milled successfully a couple of more times and when he first fought Joe Sekyra lost because he had not yet recovered his form but in the second attempt he beat Sekyra and later handed Frankie Wine a good beating at Akron.

In view of the fact that Rocco beat Wine and Sekyra he is now looked as one of the best of the heavies struggling for recognition. We believe he can whip all the Christners' and Riskoes the game has.

New Year's night he will take on Big Bill Hartwell. Big Bill is actually big. They say he tips the beams at 200 pounds. Rocco will weigh 183 when they enter at Akron. Bulk may prove hard for him to overcome but Emmet may knock Bill flat if Bill fights him.

Talking to Manager Cumo yesterday he said: "I do not know when Rocco will fight at the Jolly Bowl but anytime you say you would like to see Rocco fight at the bowl I will sign him for a fight. Its up to you."

Some of these nice days when conditions are right and some opponent will agree to battle Rocco, we'll step over to Bill Jolly's office and tell him "put Rocco in." If he does there'll be a nice big assembly there when the bell rings.

LIKES ERNIE PETERS

O. A. Slater, postoffice box 225, New Castle, Pa., writes as follows: "Seeing by an item in The News, you ask if there are any of the boxing fans who would like to see Ernie Peters fight here again. I, fore one, thinks he is the best little man that has fought here. He goes to it all the time and sure has 'color' (which means there is something about him that appeals to fans.)

"Now here is a little fellow that will give him a good fight and it will be a 'humdinger' too. I refer to Midget Mike O'Dowd, Columbus, O. He is just the same type of fighter that Peters is. I have often wondered why this little fellow has never fought here. Every fight fan that I know and talked to, likes Peters and would like to see him box here again. O'Dowd is now matched to fight Jackie Rodgers in Pittsburgh. Hoping Mr. Jolly will give this his consideration" Slater signs his name.

Slater is correct. Peters is a good fighter. He fought Willie Davies here. Some of the fans thought Peters won the fight. I do not think so. However, I will agree that Peters certainly gave Davies a good fight. The fans here have been demanding that Davies meet Midget Wolgast. Davies manager, James Buchanan, is not of that belief. There is a lot of good little men, and I might say they are better fighters than the big men. Generally they have everything while few of the big men have anything but physique, heart and sock.

WOMEN LIKE 'KAYO'

It is peculiar, nevertheless true, judging from discussions I have had with feminists who have witnessed boxing at the bowl, they like the boy with the "sock". Of all the boxers who have appeared here they seem to like Johnny Datto best. Johnny has scored several knockouts in this city. Women as a rule like to see knockouts. For my part I would prefer a display of cleverness. Having seen so many knockouts it may be that the writer is somewhat callous to the lethal punches. It is difficult to get an opponent for Datto. Almost every boy of his weight fears him. And then those who do not are such high priced performers the Bowl attendance does not justify booking them, according to Jolly. When the receipts were approximately $3,500, it would have been possible but not now. Datto receives generally a guarantee of $1,500 for every fight and with that a privilege of 20 or 25 percent of the gross receipts. An opponent genwally receives the same. He fought here several times out of gratitude to his manager, formerly of Methodists And Rick Motors Win Games At Y.M.C.A.

Central Christians Down Third U. P. Team In Exhibition Game 23-19

The First Methodists defeated the Mahoning M. E. team, 35 to 23, in the New Castle Church League, and the Rick Motors defeated the Knickerbockers, 39 to 14, in the City League, in games played at the "Y." floor on Saturday night.

The Central Christians met the Third U. P. team in an exhibition game and defeated the East Siders, 23 to 19. The game was fast and hard-fought in all quarters, with the Christians caging two more baskets than the losers. The score at half time was 12 to 11 in favor of the Christians. E. Bauman and Suber were feature players.

The Methodists had a clean sweep in their game with the Mahoning M. E. team. At half time the First M. E. quintet led, 13 to 11, but in the second half the Methodists went into action, and led by A. Lockley and McIvor, made life miserable for the Seventh Warders. Etter and Goodhart were the best bets for the losers.

In the City League game the Rick Motors defeated the Knickerbockers, 39 to 14, in a lopsided game. At half time the Rick quintet led, 20 to 1. Diffley, Fraser, Coen and Volesko featured for the winners. For the Knickerbockers the work of Alexander and Plant was the best.

Collegians Will Battle Lincolns

First Baptists To Meet Temple Israel Tonight In Preliminary At "Y."

TWO FAST GAMES ARE ASSURED FANS

Tonight at 8 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. floor the First Baptist team will meet the Temple Israel team in a Church League game. The main game on the program at the "Y" tonight brings together the All-Star Collegians and the Lincolns.

Last week the Collegians pounced on the Rick Motors for a verdict in a hard fought game, and immediately afterward the Lincolns hurled a challenge at the All-Stars for a game. The Collegians are composed of ex-high and college players home for the holidays.

Paul Reider, Bruce Franklin, Tom Connelly, "Sid" Lockley, Soyring, Friedman, Hartman, Kraft, Sumner, McGrath, Thomas and McClelland will be found in the Collegians lineup.

The Lincolns with Gennock, Fraser Coen, Genkinger, Diffley and Volesko feel confident of taking the Collegians into camp. The game tonight should be one of the most interesting of the holiday season here.

An American dancer, in Paris on his way home, is reported as saying that he will go back to Russia in April to dance on the invitation of the Philharmonic Society of Moscow. That's a fine way to treat an invitation.—The New York Evening Post.

East Wins From West At 'Frisco

EASTERNERS TOO GOOD FOR WESTERNERS

East proved superior to West in the annual football clash at San Francisco Saturday, 20 to 0, before 40,000 spectators. In fact the East gave the West a thorough football lesson and one of the Easterners who helped to win for the smooth-working combination is Alex Fox of New Castle, who played guard. Fox played guard and was captain of the Pitt Panthers during the 1928 season.

It was the first time since the annual Shrine East-West game for charity was inaugurated four years ago that an eastern team left the field with victtory. Last year the East lost. Fox and Zip Sargent played on the 1927 aggregation. Sargent was a member of last year's Pitt varsity. Both are former New Castle High stars.

Saturday the slashing football team from the east dominated throughout the four periods and at no time was in danger of being scored upon. Harpster's generalship brought forth commendation and the general all around play of Haycraft, Nowack, Getto and Fox also received comment.

Holmer Runs Wild

Poker Face Holmer passed, kicked, ran and did everything a good football player should do. He threw beautiful passes and after a fourth was fubled the West got the ball but kicked and the battering East then started. According to Frisco dispatches Nowack, Getto, tackles and Gibson and Fox, guards, opened holes at will and Howell went through the holes for gains and a touchdown and the same thing was repeated again. Nowack kicked the first extra point but on the second a poor pass from center spoiled the extra point.

East could not score in the third quarter but in the fourth period Holmer scored early in the quarter. Bennett and Holmer had circled the ends and crashed through for 13 yards and first downs. Holmer gained three yards to a touchdown and Nowack kicked a perfect point.

During the last few moments of the game the teams resorted to air play. Harpster an All-American selection of Carnegie Tech tossed passes with great abandon and had the team enroute to another touchdown when the pass was intercepted.

The line-up:

East.		West.
Haycroft	L.E.	Ford
Nowack	L.T.	Dressell
Fox	L.G.	Robesty
Aschman	C.	Grannunci
Gibson	R.G.	Dwehl
Getto	R.T.	Tobin
Johnson	R.E.	Franklin
Harpster	Q.B.	Allen
Weston	L.H.	Sims
Howell	R.H.	Kaer
Holmer	F.B.	Hoffman

Score by periods:

East	7	6	0	7	20

Summary: Touchdowns—Howell, East, 2; Hoerner, East. Point after touchdown—Nowack, East, 2. Substitutions—West, Sellman for Tobin, Speicher for Hoffman, Walker for Horan, Kaer for Sims, Hoffman for Speicher, Sims for Kaer, Petty for Ford, Cruikshank for Frankiav, Vickers for Grannucci, Barwick for Robesty; East, Sweet for Johnson, Levinson for Harpster, Delp for Haycraft, McMullin for Gibson, Wagner for Getto, Harpster for Levinson, Levvelter for Guest, Ruskowski for Wagner, Aschman for Mitchell, Bennett for Weston, Guest for Howell.

Punxsutawney High Winner

Defeats New Wilmington In Game On Saturday Night

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 31.—Local fans witnessed a hard-fought game when the Punxsutawney high school basketball team defeated New Wilmington's secondary school passers 19 to 12 to officially open the basketball season in the college town Saturday evening.

The college town basketeers started off at a fast pace and lead all through the first half, the score at the end of the half being 10 to 8 in favor of coach Olsen's local passers. However, the Punxsutawney team came through to score 11 points in the final half while the surprised college town quintet were able to chalk up only two points.

Both teams looked good and the play was fast throughout the game with the Byler-coached Punxsutawney team having the advantage in experience and individual ruggedness. Patterson and Hutchison were the outstanding players for the college town five while L. Roney, Sacley and Grube showed up well on Coach Byler's team.

The game was played on the Westminster college gym floor and it was surprisingly well-attended.

The lineups:

New Wilmington—	F.G.	F.	P.
Newton, F	0	0-0	0
Eagleson, F.	1	1-2	3
Hutchison, C.	1	0-0	2
Patterson, G	3	0-0	6
Davis, G	0	1-2	1

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

Once again in the athletic banner of New Castle waved in San Francisco as Alex Fox, guard of the East team who played as captain of Pitt during the season opened holes at will in the West team's lines for the plunging backs.

Jack Dempsey is not through with the fight game but he is through as a fighter, according to Los Angeles reports Monday. The only actual participant role he will take in the future is as a referee, it is said.

A rule declaring a fumble dead, which was sponsored by "Pop" Warner and Knute Rockne has been passed by the National Association of Football coaches which met at New York. The rule will be recommended to the Rules committee when the body meets in February at New York.

Andy Kerr who helped to coach the East team that beat the West 20 to 0, has been offered another contract to Coach Washington & Jefferson, according to reports from Washington, Pa. The paper has not yet been signed but there is no difference in opinion on salary.

Walter Hagen, Detroit, and dean of professionals won the $5,000 Long Beach open golf tournament yesterday from a famous field with a card of 276. The British open champion played brilliant and consistent golf throughout staying under par on all four rounds.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Sports Writer for Central Press and The New Castle News

Mr. Tex Rickard and Mr. Jack Sharkey are still having the awfulest time.

My sakes.

It's all about a suggestion that Mr. Sharkey fight Mr. Young Stribling in Miami next spring, as one of the first of a series of fights to select Gene Tunney's successor—as a fighter, not as a Shakespearan critic.

First Mr. Rickard announced that he was going to have Mr. Sharkey meet Mr. Stribling. Then Mr. Sharkey said it was the hooey and—warming up to his subject— called Mr. Rickard the worst thing he could think of—a manager of prize fighters. Mr. Rickard denied that, of course, and called Mr. Sharkey a polite term, meaning loud mouth.

But don't get all het up about this argument.

This battle of words probably was in the bag before the announcement of Rickard's intentions was made.

Get this.

There had to be some early publicity on the fight. Stribling's drawing powers lies in the fact, primarily, that he is a southerner. His record as a heavy isn't any hotter than that of a bushel basket of other heavies. Sharkey had one touch of color that none of the others had the ability to shout.

What was more logical than to put his under jaw to work the minute the bout was arranged?

What other idea would have kept the wires hot with matters pertaining to the fight over a period of several days? What would create more general interest in the fight—and more cash customers— than the thought that Mr. Sharkey is a bit timid about meet Mr. Stribling?

Mr. Rickard can take a lot of mean words, provided the fight goes over in a financial way. Fights aren't pleasant things to stage at best. One vivid recollection of the daily visit to Rickard's office during the days preceding the last Dempsey-Tunney fight at Chicago was the incident of a boy rushing in with two suits of clothes, fresh from the dry cleaners, and carting away an armful of others soiled in the process of rubbing elbows with prize fight managers, fighters, and so forth. The increase in the bank roll the day after the fight, however, more than offset the bill for the dry cleaning, and even repaid Rickard in a measure for being connected with the name.

As for Jack Sharkey. Both he and Johnny Buckley, his manager, are proficient enough at the simpler forms of arithmetic to be able to figure the difference between the Sharkey percentage of such a fight under Rickard's able promotion and the pin money to be picked up here and there against ham and eggers under other promoters.

IN the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, California, tomorrow afternoon, following the Rose Carnival parade which is an annual New Year's Day feature in the swanky Los Angeles suburb, football interest will again be stirred up when Georgia Tech meets the University of California.

These teams represent two of the outstanding football aggregations in the country and the game should be as bitterly fought as any of the struggles staged during the regular season.

Both teams made good records during the regular playing season and each boasts players who have been favorably mentioned by the boys who delve into statistics and make a stab at choosing what is referred to as All-American teams.

The California team is captained by Irving Phillips, who plays end at Berkeley. During the recent scramble for supremacy in college football circles it was found that efficient wingmen were almost as scarce as snow in Cuba, but that fact isn't taking any of the hurrahs away from young Phillips when it is stated that he was given first call as an end by a good many of the young men who wrestle with the all-American problem.

Phillips proved to be one of the best ends the Bears have had since the days of "Brick" Muller. Irving is a fine receiver and gets down fast under punts. He is an excellent tackler and with all this he has served as a real inspiration to the whole California squad. Phillips is easily the star of the hard-pounding Bears, who have been kept at the peak of their form by Coach Nibs Price.

Georgia Tech, on the other hand, boasts at least two players who have been mentioned for All-American honors since the close of the season. Coach Alexander has a hard fighting crew at Atlanta and probably none of them is more entitled to stardom than Peter Pund, the captain and All-American center.

Many of the pickers chose Pund in the pivot position in their mythical selections and the choice was a good one. A lot of critics agree that Pete is the best center ever produced by a Southern college. He tips the scales at 200 pounds, stands six feet two and is seldom injured despite the fact that he is badly hammered in most of the line plays. It will be interesting to see what the Bears do to the center of the Tech line tomorrow. If they succeed in going through they will be one of the first teams to make the grade this year and the Tech center trio has been pitted against some pretty keen competition.

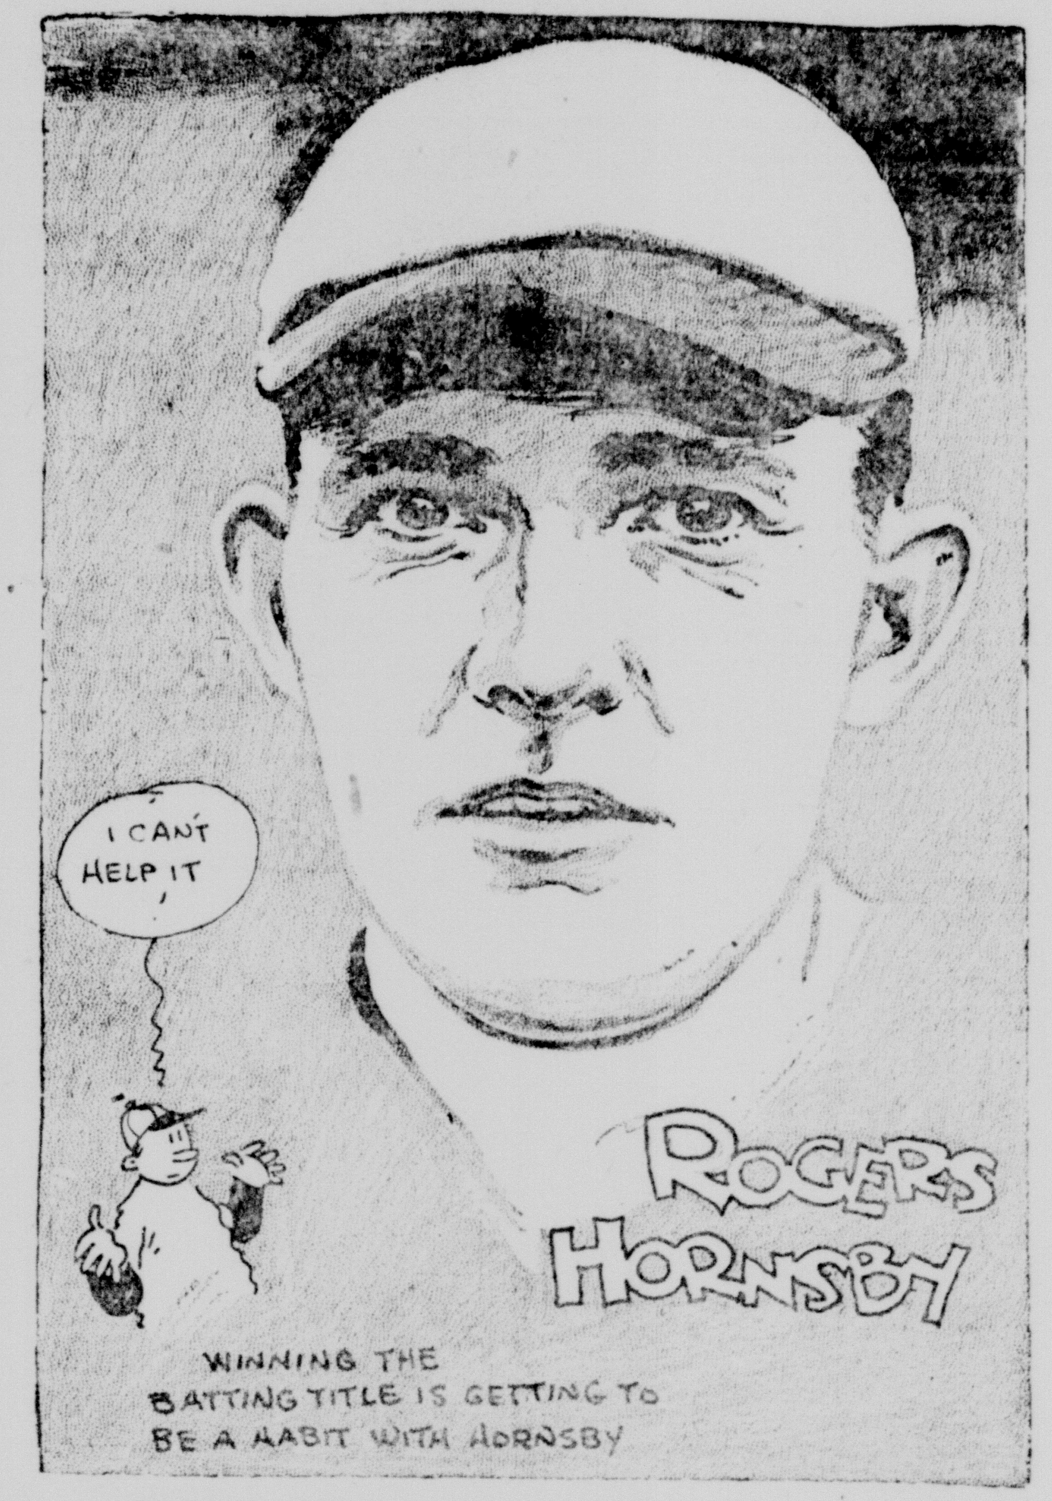
In Mizell the Golden Tornado has a back who is also of All-American caliber. Playing consistently high class football all year, Mizell is rated as one of the best backs in the country and while he failed to make the grade into the front ranks when some of the experts went into their All-American huddle, he was favorably mentioned by almost all of them.

Mizell seems to be charmed against injury and is a triple threat man who is a real menace in all branches of the game. He is twenty years old and he's a battering ram that will bear watching at Pasadena.

Which of these fellows will star tomorrow or will it be some new satellite that glimmers out of the west? Time will tell.

SORDS POINTS

Hornsby Will Take Crown To Chicago



I CAN'T HELP IT
ROGERS HORNSBY
WINNING THE BATTING TITLE IS GETTING TO BE A AABIT WITH HORNSBY

By JACK SORDS

Sports Cartoonist-Writer for Central Press and New Castle News

One year ago the acquisition of Kiki Cuyler and his trusty bat by the Chicago Cubs was accepted as reason enough to award them the National league flag without playing out the season. Most fans will recall that Cuyler failed to hit his stride at the start of the season and his failure to come through handicapped the Cublets.

Still banking on a heavy hitter to give them the punch needed to turn the trick the Cubs, some months ago, grabbed off Rogers Hornsby. If batting power will turn the trick, Hornsby ought to lead the team to a flag. Official National league batting averages, recently issued, award him the batting crown—his seventh batting title in his career as a major league player. One more championship will tie him with the great old Hans Wagner, who led the old circuit eight times during his enviable career with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Hornsby is, without a doubt, the greatest natural batter in the National league. Not only that, but he is a good second baseman.

California-Georgia Tech Battle Tuesday

(International News Service)

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 31.— None of those lulls, which forecasts an impending battle, was evident about the camps of California and Georgia Tech today, as the coaches of the two teams gave wise counsel to their warriors.

Those who are able to tune in on that intangible mental state of football players report that the Golden Bears have attained that spirit which has much to do with winning football games, but whether or not the betting gentry is cognizant of the effect of this attitude is not known. The Gentry, however, must think it knows something for it is putting California on the long end of the betting.

The Bears, in practice, seem to have rounded into condition after a lapse of training following the close of the regular season. They have been putting much vim and vigor into their practice sessions and appear to be ready for the toughest kind of a melee.

The boys from Georgia, on the other hand, seem to be taking their workouts as a matter of routine, although this may mean that they are not going to leave all of their energy in the practice session but will carry plenty of reserve for the game tomorrow.

As for the lines of the two teams, the experts are not willing to concede that Georgia Tech has a better one than the Golden Bears.

The game, however, will be played and decided in the Rose Bowl and not in the hotel lobbies—and the forays of Alabama into California territory in other years must not be overlooked.

To Broadcast Game

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—The California-Georgia Tech game at Pasadena will be broadcast on a nation-wide hookup over the N. B. C. system tomorrow afternoon, the National Broadcasting Company announced today.

Three radio reporters will cover the game, Graham MacNamee, N. B. C., Carl Haverlin of KFI and Bill Munday of WSB. Broadcasting will start at 4:30 p. m., E. S. T.

When Rogers Hornsby was crowned king of National League batsmen for the seventh time he approached closely to the amazing record hung up by Hans Wagner (left), famous Pirate star, twenty years ago. But one more championship is necessary for Hornsby to tie Honus' mark and experts predict that he will corral it next season.

this city. He says he does not want to fight southpaws and being the last word in that it has been impossible to book a Datto-Stoy match. Personally we believe there would be much better attractions. Some say "Andy Martin". I have been told that Martin's style wouldn't appeal it. If Jolly could only find a boxer who would stand up and fight back, Datto would be seen at his best. He is a puncher and while he has a fairly good left hook and jab he doesn't go in for science. But his style is so sneaky, creepy and serpentinelike that he always gets somewhere.

PEROTTA HAS FEVER

George Perotta wants to fight again. He has asked for a fight here. George put more people in the Bowl, if recollection recalls accurately, than any other person. Willie Davies was second, Emmett Rocco, third. A few days ago Johnny Piai who fought a "wash up" or "all in" Tony Ross, refused to box Perotta. He said Perotta weighed too much. Perotta would weight 156 and Piai, 150. Perotta isn't the Perotta he was. If he would get in as good condition as possible it may come to pass that Nick Martin or some of that ilk would give him a whirl. What the game here needs is some new faces. Most of the preliminary and main bouters have appeared often. Fights like Dillon-Firpo are worth repeating. Rocco is wanted but I have been told that Jolly would have to increase his admission from $1.50 and $1.00 to $3, $2 and $1. Other promoters charge this admission. Before Jolly makes the move for the one bout he will find out how fans feel about it. The way things are going the fans are getting plenty for their money. Tomorrow they will get that much in the first two preliminaries. Fans will now eye the south where Sharkey meets Stribling. Gene Tunney is enroute home but he will never box again. Some think that the Dempsey comeback talk is nothing more than a ballyhoo for the Sharkey-Stribling fight. Risko looks on the downward glide. Christner is the sensation but is is a two round fighter, one who has sock and lacks youth.

GONE, NOT FORGOTTEN

By the way, there have been many fighters to hold residence here. Of the old timers very few remain around. Tom MaMahon is here as is George Chip; Eddie Weygant is in Ohio; Babe Picato recently returned from California; Patsy Brannigan resides in Pittsburgh, likewise Tony Ross. Battling Terry says he has forgotten the ring and is now in the mill. Tommy Jones is a policeman. Tommy Bresnahan is in Rochester, N. Y., and Joe Chip at Pottsville. Terry Mitchell is working for a Brooklyn newspaper. Dan Dailey is a foreman in an industrial plant near Pittsburgh; Jimmie Dunn returns here often with fighters; Frankie Ritz works here in a mill. Johnny Papke is said to be in the movies in California. Mickie Solomon will return to the ring soon, he told us recently. All right, Mickie whenever you're ready so are the fans. Jack Fink lives at Eastbrook. Ross carried the banner in Europe. Chips, MaMahon, Picato, Brannigan and Manager Jimmie Dime waved it in California and Australia. Brannigan stepped forth in a Canadian ring often and Charlie Haddad tossed punches at Montreal. Charlie was the only one to win from Emmet Rocco. It was their first fight. Haddad left the game and Rocco is soaring upward. Charlie Dunn lives at Ambridge. No one knows where Mickey Farrell is. He was last heard of in Cleveland.

IN COLLEGE CLASS ROOMS—

And of the baseball players we have known not so many during the past 15 years have reached the "big show." Harold (Had) Haid was with the pennant St. Louisians last year. Paul McCullough hurled for Minneapolis in the A. A. A. Gus Thompson was with York for a while. He is home now. We understand but with the chirp of the sparrows he will be gone again to the baseball field as will other boys who took to the national pastime. Joe Hartman was with Johnstown and was scouted by the Pirates. The basketball players generally are to be found in colleges, likewise the football players. Fox was with the East team at Frisco.

Westminster Wins Again

Takes Fifth Straight Game Of Preliminary Season At Pittsburgh

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 31. —Playing at Pittsburgh Saturday evening, the Westminster college basketball team won its fifth straight victory of the season when it defeated the Northside Community House 34-27.

The game was fast throughout and the college players were extended to the limit to keep a lead over the Pittsburgh passers. Martens, guard for the Community House starred for his team putting in two baskets and scoring five out of six foul goals.

Delahunty, Westminster high point man last year, again showed his scoring skill in Saturday's encounter. He made six baskets and accounted for three fouls. He was the high point scorer of the game. O'Donovan and Lewis also showed up well.

The lineups:

TO BAN POISON FROM STATE STREAMS

BUTLER, Pa., Dec. 31.—Howard I. Painter, who left for Harrisburg today to enter upon his second term as senator from the Butler-Armstrong district, has prepared a bill intended to prevent pollution of streams by sulphur water from abandoned coal mines.

Senator Painter proposes to require owners of abandoned mines to seal them in a manner that will make the mine a reservoir, or force the water through enough earth at the entrance that it will be filtered enough to remove the harmful elements.

THE BOSS HANDED ME A LETTER THIS MORNING AND SAID TO BE SURE AND PUT IT IN TODAY'S SHOW—WHAT DO YOU SAY........LET US READ IT TOGETHER!
DALE AIRE DIRECTOR OF GOOFEY MOVIES
12-31

To my dear fans,
Since the opening of the Goofey Movies studio in Mistletoe, I have received thousands and thousands of letters from fans—poems, gags, scenarios and all kinds of suggestions—nearly twenty thousand photographs of my stars have been mailed to fans in all parts of the globe—Therefore,

I want to take this opportunity to express my deep appreciation for the interest shown in following my stars in Goofey Movie productions during the past year.
So many fans write in to ask my stars to visit them—now please don't feel hurt when they don't accept your kind invitations, for you see they are so busy here at the studio, producing and acting in different shows every day that they have hardly time to breathe.

And now on behalf of the Goofey movie stars and myself, I wish you all a happy New Year. Sincerely yours
Fred Neher.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Today closed the greatest stock market year in history. While many of the active stocks started the day at a slightly lower level of prices, the motor and copper stocks were again swept along by a powerful buying wave, with price gains ranging from 1 to 5 points. Most of the steel stocks were also pointed upward, with Vanadium leading the so-called independents in a brisk upward move.

The copper producers hoisted the price of export copper to 16¾ cents a pound, another notch in the steady rise of prices for the red metal. Anaconda Copper started upward, setting a new high at 117½ and most of the low-priced coppers, like Nevada, Magma and Inspiration, followed the lead.

Chrysler led the motors and sold above 133, up about 2 points. Studebaker, Briggs and Hupp got into higher territory. The rubber and tire stocks were strong. At 59, Briggs had recovered 17 points of the loss incurred in the early December crash.

Standard Oil of New York was again the star performer in the oil list, climbing to the year's highest price of 45 in very active trading. Sinclair showed the best demand among the independent oils, but was held back by profit taking.

Money was tight and the renewal rate of 12 per cent for call money went into effect at the start.

Gas to End War

A new gas which will make war international suicide, an acetylene compound, is being experimented with by Dr. Hilton Ira Jones, of Wilmette, Ill. At Chicago he has declared he believes the gas, which is highly explosive, nauseous and poisonous, will be a means of doing away with war.

Cemetery 3,000 Years Old Found

MUNICH, Dec. 31. — An ancient burial ground about 3,000 years old was discovered by workmen excavating for the foundations of a number of new buildings at Maisach, near Munich. They first hit upon a number of antique burial urns dating back to the Hallstatt period, about 1000 B. C.

Further excavations under the supervision of archeological experts brought to light 93 of these urns, each containing besides the ashes of the dead a small leaden receptacle. Scattered among the urns were numerous bronze bracelets, necklaces, needles, knives and other implements.

SEEK MUSIC TEACHER TEST

To drive out the musical "quacks" and make the city one of the musical centers of the world, a movement has been started in Sydney, N. S. W., to compel examination of all teachers as to their proficiency. The drive is especially aimed at teachers who train amateurs only sufficiently to perform Mendelssohn's "Songs With Words" at church concerts while giving them ideas regarding technique and interpretation that eventually are ruinous. Vocal teachers are also hit, the supporters of the movement saying that there are only two really capable teachers in the city.

Upset "The Haig"

Sensation of sensations in the golfing world is 20-year-old Horton Smith, Joplin, Mo., pro, who administered an unlooked for defeat upon Walter Hagen in the Catalina open championships. Young Smith was one up on "the Haig" in their 72-hole match. He will compete in Southern tournaments during the winter season.

Marvin Takes Post As Head Of Lions

New Officers Are Installed At Meeting Held At Noon Today

Officers for the New Castle Lion's club for 1929 were induced into office at their meeting at the Elk's home today. The newly chosen leaders were elected at a meeting held some time ago.

Featuring the closing meeting for 1928 was the "swan song" of the King Lion during this past year, Dr. J. L. Reed, and the inaugural given by Ezra D. Marvin, king lion for the next 12 months.

Committee reports were given by various chairmen of the club's committee and included a summary of the work and activities of the respective groups this past year. Earl Book, chairman of the club's blind work committee, gave a most interesting report which reviewed the exceptional work of that committee during the past three months. Other reports were likewise of interest.

New committees to be appointed by President Marvin this coming week will be made known shortly. The new committees will serve for six months.

Mail Carrier 39 Years Walked 139,000 Miles

BALTIMORE, Dec. 31.—Thirty-nine years ago John E. Ruark started his employment as a mail carrier. On the first of February he will quit that job. According to the Superintendent of the Baltimore Post Office, in the thirty-nine years Mr. Ruark has traveled more than 139,000 miles on his routes. He has walked fifteen miles a day for 306 days in each year and during that time also has carried about 23,868,000 pieces of mail, an average of 2,000 pieces a day, according to Mr. Purdum.

FAKIR CLAIMS PRIESTHOOD

Descendant of a hairdresser to one of the kings of Oudh, Charles de Musset, a Frenchman, aged 70, is a claimant to the priesthood of the famous Hanuman (monkey-god) Temple at Jakoo, Simla. De Musset renounced Christianity for Hinduism at 17, and served his novitiate in a lonely temple with monkeys as his sole companions. In recent years he has been a familiar figure in Simla, where he became known as "Leonard Fakir", because of the skins he wears, but latterly he lived in retirement and shunned the companionship of Europeans until he apppeared to make his claim.

It seems impossible, but it is probable that posterity will talk in solemn tones of our wisdom and foresight.

Expect To Have Six Conventions Here During 1929

Thus far, New Castle will undoubtably has six large and well known conventions scheduled for the coming year, states James W. Cole, secretary of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce.

This list of conventions includes the Pennsylvania State Teachers Convention which was awarded to New Castle Friday; the D. A. R. convention; the meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club; the June meeting of the Allegheny Regional Advisory board; the post office clerks convention, and it is thought that the Pennsylvania State Libarian's convention will also come to New Castle.

The librarians meeting place has not as yet been decided but every indication is that it will come to New Castle, states Mr. Cole.

All of the conventions which have been secured for the city are large ones and also of no small importance. The state teachers convention, perhaps the largest of all the conventions, is the newest adition to the meeting roll here for 1929.

The meeting time for all of these conventions, states Mr. Hall, is during the summer months with the exception of the teachers meeting which will be held here in December.

Although the convention season for this year is practically over, it is thought that there may be more decided later in New Castle's favor.

Motorists Warned Not To Drive On 1928 License Tags

Law Will Be Stringently Enforced Beginning Tuesday, January 1

Backed up by explicit orders from the office of Benjamin G. Eynon, registrar of motor vehicles at Harrisburg, state motor patrolmen today are warning all those who are driving their automobiles under 1928 license plates that this practice will not be tolerated after midnight. There is to be no extension of time for 1928 plates.

Bulletins have been sent to the police departments of every city and borough in the commonwealth calling the attention of the chief of police and his force to these license requirements. State patrolmen will be stationed along the main highways and where the traffic is heaviest to see that the regulation is strictly enforced.

The method of motor law enforcement to be used by city and state authorities alike, it is believed, will be the issuance of tags and summons. Tags are issued by the city policemen and summons by the state patrolmen.

Drivers will be permitted to continue to their destination if the excuse for not obtaining 1929 license plates is reasonable. Under the law, police will be permitted to impound the car and hold it in custody until the driver obtains 1929 plates, but, it is declared, this will be done only when circumstances justify the harshest methods. In some sections patroling the highways will start at midnight tonight, while in others it will start on the morning of January 1.

Many Are Ill In Butler Co. Towns

ZELIENOPLE, Dec. 31.—There are many cases of influenza in Harmony and Zelienople, the number of cases having increased in the past week considerably. While the cases are not serious, only a few being reported that are bad, in many homes the entire family is ill with the disease.

In Harmony there are also a large number of cases of whooping cough, as well as many cases of chickenpox. In the Zehner school district, west of Zelienople, there is also an epidemic of chickenpox. There are twenty-four in the school district, and all except six have been out on account of the epidemic. Miss Thora Dambach of this place, is teacher.

Why Fat Had to Go

FashionForbadeIt

A few years ago, Paris forbade fat. All her styles were created for the slender. Then there came a tide of disapproval for obesity, both in men and women. Youth and beauty, health and vigor demanded its reduction.

Then science came in. It found that a great cause of excess fat lay in a defective gland. By thousands of experiments on animals it found that excess fat could be banished by correcting this deficiency.

That is one great reason why excess fat has been disappearing fast. You see that in every circle. Slender figures are the rule. Mothers look like daughters. Not by starving, not by over-work, but by scientific measures.

The greatest factors in this fight on fat are embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for over 20 years—millions of boxes of them. Users have told others the results. Thus, year by year, the use has grown until it is now enormous.

Try this modern method. No abnormal exercise or diet is required. Correct the cause. Watch the fat go, day by day. Watch the new health and new vigor. Do it because this is the right way and the tried way to end obesity. Don't delay. Many new joys are waiting for you when you get weight down to normal.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. If your druggist is out, he will get them at once from his jobber.

McNutt Urges Legion To Co-operate With Red Cross Program

National Commander Sends Letter To Local Post Of Legion

A close cooperation between the posts of the American Legion and the various chapters of the American Red Cross is strongly urged by National Commander, Paul V. McNutt of the Legion, in a letter sent to all state commanders recently.

A copy of this letter has been received here and reads in part:

"We are all aware of the close cooperation that exists between the American Legion and the Red Cross in both veteran relief work and community disaster relief. These two great organizations have much in common and their interests and service programs are interlinked and interdependent.

"The Red Cross is relying on our support. Let us make it heartier than its officers anticipate."

Then Commander McNutt urges the respective commanders to secure the support of posts in their states for the annual Red Cross roll call, which was conducted here some time ago.

Members of the Perry S. Gaston Post No. 343 supported the local chapter fine, according to P. J. Dempsey, the executive secretary of the chapter. The legion had a team in the roll call and was responsible for a great many new memberships. Officials of the post here have assured Red Cross attaches that their organization here will do all it can to cooperate and work hand in hand with the Red Cross.

Commander McNutt, who urges the cooperation will visit New Castle on February 12, 1929.

State Health Chief Warns Of Flue Peril

HARRISBURG, Dec. 31.—Dr. Theodore B. Appel, state secretary of health, issued the following statement in regard to influenza in Pennsylvania tonight:

"Reports received at the State Department of Health indicate a steady increase in the number of cases of influenza in the state and an invasion of localities hitherto free. In certain sections it is definitely epidemic. As a further increase is probable, measures should be taken in the municipalities affected to perfect machinery for taking care of possible emergencies."
